

Reality for the Mentally Distracted (retarded)

by jake Thursday, Feb 13 2014, 10:27pm

international / prose / post

The sun recently reversed its magnetic polar axis. It was reported matter of factly without emphasis by the media but since that event the earth has experienced an increase in tectonic activity, volcanic eruptions, earth quakes of various magnitudes, and magnetic disturbances.

However, a preponderance of activity is occurring in the Indonesian archipelago which according to a 20th century prediction would be followed by activity in the Caribbean and South America.

Information regarding future events is not soothsaying, it is based on sound analysis and a prognosis derived from consequential events. Our solar system is indeed mutually effective as is everything in this infinite kinetic universe.

All disturbances effect everything in the immediate vicinity and the earth is in the immediate effective vicinity of the sun. So we are not surprised that the earth is experiencing increased tectonic and magnetic disturbances, which will continue and accelerate depending on other influencing factors, primary among them is the consciousness of the earth -- that is the combined mental/magnetic (auric) attitude of the entire global population; hippies and others accurately referred to it as a 'vibe' (vibration) which indeed it is!

What we witness on earth today is rampant criminal activity from governments, perverse enterprises of business and the paralysis of the moral majority -- the sum of which (effect) spells disaster in the IMMEDIATE FUTURE.

The animals know it and sensitives know it, ancient Chinese society could uncannily predict earth quakes by watching water birds and other animals; but today we do not believe nature/climate change/the effects of pollution because they distract from profit-only driven ideologies

So when the time comes do not panic, as you have been given all the cues and solutions, just die in your misery, fear, desperation, cowardice, ignorance and paralysis -- you see, it was given a name in the 20th century, 'the great purging!'

Follow your innate instincts NOT the fictitious mass media or the lies of criminally corrupt politicians.