

Dalai Fraud Approves of Homosexuality

CIA asset and Dalai Fraud, Tenzin Gyatso, has recently been prevailed upon to change his stance on 'poofs and dykes.' His previous view is recorded thus: "sex should only involve 'organs intended for sexual intercourse'". The Dalai Fraud clearly adopts the traditional view that sodomy or 'poop pushing' is far from natural, as are the dickless sexual practices of dykes -- who could disagree? Why, bisexual mass murderer and sexual aberrant, Barack Obama and his perverted overlords, that's who!

Guess who?

Clearly, the Dalai fraud has been persuaded to change his view in the hope that deviants and aberrants are more easily accepted into mainstream civilised society -- dickless dykes and poop pushing fags have even taken to marriage rituals to seal their unnatural liaisons.

I would pause for a moment to clarify the situation which may appear harsh to some readers. At no stage have we supported the victimisation of poofs, dykes or aberrants of any kind unless of course these types present as dangers to society as Obama and 'sweetie' Eric Schmidt of Google, clearly do.

Society breeds all sorts of deviants and aberrants, just take a walk down the main street of any western capital city for a view of the many species of fucked-up homo-sapiens.

'Live and let live' should be the rule that guides enlightened beings; however, any attempt to normalise aberrant practices should be thwarted if a given society wishes to maintain its cultural integrity and traditional values.

The first thing a wise/experienced world traveller learns is to respect the diverse cultures he or she encounters regardless of whether one agrees with certain practices or not.

However, we should always endeavour to remove aberrants from positions of social leadership and responsibility for reasons abundantly clear to everyone. I have personal experience of acute bias displayed by homosexuals in fields/areas they (and others) are required to remain impartial, like arbitration, mediation and conciliation disputes -- in fact, the bias was intentional and outrageous, I was personally challenged by a poof who couldn't help but say, "if you do not like my decision you can always appeal to the High Court but that will cost you $10,000, ha ha!" My response to that direct provocation should have been, if you do not like my fist impacting your biased faggot face you should have remained impartial, but unlike the hysterical poof provoking me, I maintained my composure -- homosexuals love to provoke and aggravate.

Of course we appealed and complained about this character internally and had the matter mediated by three straight conciliators who unanimously decided in our favour. So you see, that fag had serious psychological issues interfering with his position of responsibility as an arbitrator and conciliator -- I could name numerous other examples of aberrant behaviour and homosexual bias but I do not wish to portray all poofs as screwed up, only the vast majority.

As for the Dalai Fraud, he displayed yet another example of his severe lack of integrity. As for Obama, who recently bragged about 'killing' as one of his 'strong suits,' he should be hanged for his many brutal extra-judicial murders and collateral civilian deaths after a fair trial, which, I would emphasise, he denies his victims!
