

Congratulations Woolies and down, down, DOWN with Wesfarmers Coles

by joe Monday, Mar 10 2014, 11:06pm

international / prose / post

it's about jobs and a viable Australia, NOT profit at any cost, Mr Coles boss, Ian McLeod!

In stark contrast to profit at any cost Wesfarmers Coles, Woolworths Ltd has listened to Aussie consumers and decided to support local food producing industries by saving SPC Ardmona from ruin with a $70m deal to supply food products to Woolies over five years.

Coles' cowboy CEO, Ian McLeod

It is heartening to see that sense has finally prevailed over blind, callous, profit seeking -- what becomes of a nation that has allowed corporations like Wesfarmers Coles to ruin its ability to feed the people? Are you reading this Abbott, you corporate lackey? Your responsibility is to the Australian people NOT Murdoch, Rinehart or foreign Transnationals, you plutocrat serving traitorous dog!

On (recorded) orders from his masters, puppet PM Tony Abbott, is currently engaged in the process of selling the last Australian-owned industries to foreign Transnationals, which interests would like nothing more than to showcase Australia as the first totally corporate dependent slave nation on earth -- in other words a subjugated people in their own nation dependent on foreign Transnational companies! That is where it all ends, Mr Abbott; do not sell the family jewels, Qantas or Oz Post etc, streamline and improve them by ejecting the dysfunctional bureaucratic rot entrenched in these organisations. Government is installed to REMEDY not SELL or abandon faltering Oz institutions!

It was the ACCC pursuing the nationally destructive practices of Coles that alerted independent journos and the Oz public to the criminal activities of its Harvard trained, FOREIGN boss, Ian McLeod, who could care less about anything other than his personal bonuses and obscene \$55m pay packet.

It is now hoped that companies that employ KNOWN cowboy CEOs consider well the LONG TERM consequences and COSTS of their foolhardy shortsighted actions. Hit and run CEOs like McLeod favour short term gains via highly questionable and destructive practices but ignore long term negative consequences and severe negative impacts on brand and integrity.

We hope that the move by Woolies to support LOCAL industries is just the beginning of a new wave of mutual assistance and mutual support for all patriotic Australian industries.

The CLEAR message to government, Mr Abbott is NOT to sell Oz to the dogs or serve private minority interests. Proceed on your current course running errands for the plutocrats to YOUR very great historical and PERSONAL cost, Tony! We suggest you familiarise yourself with Oz history and learn to think Australian, Mr Abbot -- fancy not being able to handle the likes of Murdoch, Rinehart and the Banker plutocracy -- draw you sword, you shameful spineless, lackey. Plutocrats are NOT the legislative government, are they, you bloody traitorous COWARD?

If the plutocrats attempt to give you trouble simply nationalise their mass media and other industries until they learn that Australia is for Australians -- the masses would support you to the hilt for saving their nation!

'Onya Oz! Restore this nation to its former egalitarian and 'fair go' ideals and vote only independent representatives into office at every level of government -- that means BOYCOTT the corrupt, owned MAJOR PARTIES at all times.

Lackey Oz PM, Tony Abbott

<http://www.abc.net.au/news/2014-03-11/spc-ardmona-signs-70m-deal-with-woolworths/5311496>

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-1047.html>