

Crimea: don't miss the signs

by johnno Thursday, Mar 13 2014, 11:52am

international / prose / post

America has more gall than Hitler ever had, and we saw how far Hitler got before fate caught up with him. Putin is now assailed from all sides, including inside Russia; China is adopting its usual cowardly position on the sidelines -- former allies abandoned by Russia when the US illegally attacked them now watch Russia getting a taste -- what goes around clearly comes around!

Vladimir 'bought' Putin, coward and capitulator - Help restore Kosovo to its rightful sovereign owner

Prior to western interests attacking Putin over his attitude on the Crimea, a region that wishes to rejoin mother Russia, which a legal referendum will shortly decide, Putin in his political wisdom allowed the people to decide their own destiny, which is exactly what Obama demanded of Russia in his first press statement on the Ukraine.

The fact that Obama is now dreading the prospect of a referendum and has already issued a press statement declaring that the US and vassal allies would not recognise the will of the people he so earnestly supported in the first instance, is yet another example of this man's rabid hypocrisy, which would have to go down in history or at least the Guinness Book of Records as of Galactic proportions.

However, prior to all of this America first tested Putin to see if he had any balls; they sent in an inbred demented Saudi prince to threaten Putin to his face with terrorist activity. And what did Putin do, NOTHING, as he did while numerous Russian allies fell to the US and western interests -- so now it's Putin's turn and we are enjoying every minute of it -- the stinking little mouse.

OK, Barack, please do, let the people decide in the Crimea, the Balkans, Iraq, Afghanistan, Libya, Syria and a host of other nations the US has illegally interfered with over the past 15 years -- nah! Watching Obama's galactic hypocrisy and the attempts of his handlers to revise previous press statements is far more entertaining.

Putin will never live down Saudi prince Bandar openly shitting in his face -- and so Russia's fate is sealed, the US learned that COWARD Putin would cave when they made their move on the Ukraine and cave he did -- regardless of what he says Putin will capitulate to the western interests that own him.

Prince Bandar and Obama

<http://www.zerohedge.com/news/2014-03-12/chairman-joint-chiefs-staff-us-ready-military-response-ukraine>

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-1052.html>