

Russia vs US/NATO -- a multitude of Opportunities for smaller Groups/States

by broz Thursday, Mar 27 2014, 10:34pm

international / prose / post

It is to be expected that the mass media and alternative media should, without exception, focus on the gambit between Russia and the US/NATO, when in actual REALITY a number of smaller States and non-State players stand to make enormous gains from this superpower confrontation. We refer to the genius politics of Marshal Tito, probably the leading exponent of small State effective geo-politics, the world has ever seen.

JFK with Tito

The tension created by Western interests pushing Putin to do exactly as they anticipated -- you fool Putin -- has created a multitude of opportunities for smaller players. The tensions are enormous at this stage and could easily be likened to a tinder box; a tilt here or there, which agitators on the ground and on the 'digital front' are easily able to perform could tip the balance permanently and result in an outcome that neither superpower anticipated.

Non-state groups other than inbred Islamists that amusingly turfed U.S. proxy Jihadist fighters from Syria could easily seize the initiative and turn events to their advantage. Few have noted how a bunch of inbred non-aligned Islamists so easily subverted western plans for Syria -- in fact it was child's play -- imagine what could be accomplished by highly specialised trained groups and experts in crowd control.

Another important lesson to be learned from current events is how easily 'astute' commentators held in the highest regard by the moronic masses have missed the point and have been managed (captured) and led by the mainstream media circus -- take a look outside the prescribed 'box,' morons -- and I include Chomsky and obvious agent, Chris Hedges, who incidentally does not believe that 9/11 was an inside job -- LOL! [Zero cred.]

If you want change then effect it with superior skills, intelligence, cunning and more effective methods -- personally I wouldn't piss on any known journalist or social commentator today; the lot have demonstrated their very low grade analytical skills and how easily manipulated they in fact are!

Have a nice day morons, we have work to do; can you guess? A high value political assassination perhaps, followed by whipped hysteria and an induced retaliatory response -- a task perfectly suited to smaller state and non-State groups. How very sweet it is.

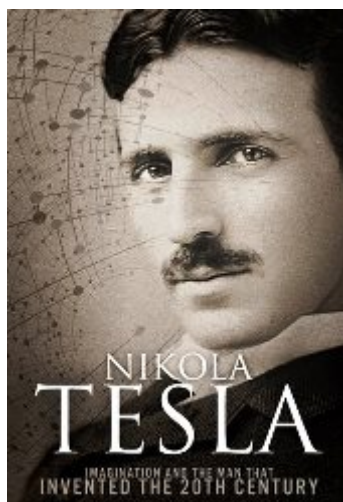

A final NOTE to Russian and American DUNCE strategists; you are in control of NOTHING; we choose the time, place, method and arrange for your mutual destruction. A new century, a new type of warfare and there is nothing you can do about your substandard IQs and fifth rate abilities - LMAO!

PS You fuck with Serbs to your very great cost; did you forget Maric, Tesla, Tito and a host of others including the present strategist that has been in your eye for a decade -- you have reaped a whirlwind but we shall choose the optimum circumstances, time and place to tip the scales PERMANENTLY against you both -- China is receptive and aligned, choke on it!

CCCC

Visionary physicist Maric with Husband Einstein

The astounding and exceptional, Nikola Tesla