As stated previously not one former Soviet leader would have allowed NATO to surround Russia with missile systems, thereby giving it a critical first strike advantage -- BUT PUTIN DID!

Putin

And if that treasonous outrage wasn't bad enough, Putin then allowed NATO/US forces to run roughshod over allies like Yugoslavia, Libya, Syria and other Central Asian and African nations -- then Putin attempts to use the Kosovo fiasco/theft as a justification for his legal support of Russians in the Ukraine -- no excuses necessary Putin, but thanks for confirming you allowed allies to fall into the hands of enemies -- you stinking cur! Sacrificing Kosovo, Libya and other allies would no doubt result in America in your cowardly face Putin, so enjoy it now, sucker!

Now consider Russia's huge nuclear arsenal and its sophisticated modern weaponry, which Putin refuses to mobilise against western aggression, and then consider North Korea with only a few nukes and jalopy medium range missiles that could possibly reach Japan and how America is loath to advance on North Korea but is VERY CONFIDENT TO ADVANCE ON THEIR PAID COWARD, MOUSE PUTIN who has a thousand times more lethal weaponry than North Korea -- a huge question now goes begging (traitor)!

Why are all Putin's millions in corruption money ferreted away in western controlled Banks? The sooner the Russian military take Putin out back and place him before a firing squad for treason the better and safer Russia will be.

If Russia wishes to check the US/NATO advance then simply orient your nuclear arsenal with a firm determination to use it! Aim missile systems at strategic targets in western Europe, the UK and continental United States; also command naval submarine and long range bombers to ready themselves for a strike -- then make your ultimatum to western aggressors to fuck off back to their own regions or face the consequences; or do you need a real soldier to show you how it should be done?
