

America vs Russia - an Orchestrated Conflict

When two large dogs fight over a bone it's always the 'smaller,' smarter and faster 'fox' that gets the prize, and so, the Russian-American conflict proceeds according to the irresistible forces that have been cleverly set in motion (plan).

It has been over two thousand years since Sun Tzu brushed his treatise on war, a text that is without peer to this day regarding warfare, espionage and every manner of conflict/competition. Dumbarse occidentals have never been able to grasp the subtle allusions and metaphors that Asians utilise with the utmost expertise and so in a sense, 'The Art of War' is also an esoteric text, one on which I shall shed a little more light.

It is given that one must know the enemy better than one knows oneself, and what do occidentals know least, the Asian mind and temperament? Occidentals are too busy being arrogant and 'superior'-- blind in other words -- to fully appreciate or apprehend the subtle nuances of Asian cultures. It is also true that the most refined form of warfare/victory is one in which an enemy is vanquished from within. Now, geniuses -- are you reading this, Zbig?

Zionist/Wall St/Corporate controlled America is a very well known quantity, its fear-paralysed population and its simplistic motivating forces of avarice (greed) and the acquisition of 'wealth' are very well known indeed; furthermore, America has no 'balancing' or redeeming qualities, therefore its weakness and its strength are inextricably intertwined and it's only a matter of hooking the manic beast in blind pursuit of only one overriding force, the acquisition of wealth (in whatever form). In short, America is an easily manipulated, unsophisticated, junkie -- LOL -- too fuckin' easy, and uncle, if u think we are enjoying this you would be right (for a change).

The trick of course is to lure enemies into conflict situations from which they cannot emerge intact and then to quickly extinguish/vanquish both.

Two powerful nations are presently engaged in a 'showdown' or standoff; one nation (if it's smart) is able to retreat and both would then survive, the other has no choice in the matter and must fight if 'pressed' in any way -- it has already allowed its borders to be compromised thanks to a compromised corrupt leader.

Nevertheless, from an intelligent perspective the situation is easily resolved; however, we are dealing with supreme dunces, giant egos, blind manias, paranoia and manic addictions/pursuits, so the likelihood of an intelligent resolution is slim indeed, isn't that right Zbig, you can't go back on your own treatise now, can you? So, please keep pushing the 'legitimate' junta of Kiev, you fuckin' dumb, ego-bound, Polack, we couldn't be happier -- LOL!

OK, now here's the esoteric aspect to which I alluded in the introduction; the text says the ultimate victory is one in which no physical battle has taken place or one in which enemies have been convinced by 'their own deliberations' -- take note of those inverted commas -- to follow a path that has been pre-determined by the opposing force. This is accomplished by manipulating the impelling or irresistible forces of the opponent so that the opponent imagines it is making its own decisions -- the primary motivator/concern must be constantly 'pampered' and urged along. Do not forget that in the case of America its primary motivator/concern (wealth acquisition) is also its soft underbelly or Achilles heel.

The situation as it now stands -- after various external consultancies have 'assessed and mapped it,' favours THIRD PARTIES and the FREE WORLD, notwithstanding some losses if the situation escalates into a full blown nuclear conflict; every effort should now be made by all operatives and agents to subtly promote differences and armed conflict between Russia and America -- O, did I just let the 'feign' out of the bag? Fuck, man, I don't know what I'm doing any more, what day is it, anyway? You will never know, you indescribable dunces.

America's HUGE weakness is that it has surrendered its sovereignty to private, minority interests with no or minimal skills in geopolitical gamesmanship, isn't that right, Zbig, you ego-trapped clown? And man, are we ever taking advantage of that 'little' gift, MORONS! We are able to reveal all of this simply because America is nose-ringed and currently operates in incredibly narrowed fields of 'choice.'

Have a very nice day, Jethro, this war was over when you ILLEGALLY bombed the civilian city of Belgrade. With firmly established TRADITIONAL contacts in Moscow and Beijing we have been operational and have thrown all our support, skills and talents to the task, we now stand solidly behind China -- do your very INADEQUATE best, MORONS!

Jests and rants aside, the real tragedy of a nuclear confrontation is that the overwhelming GLOBAL majority allowed a few flawed and clearly sick psychopaths to lead them to certain death and destruction. What is the point of being THE MAJORITY?
