correct were they to deify the fiery orb -
impartial its rays
that warm
the living, the dead
and the inconsequential

the earth bathes daily in (its) fluid warmth - all manner of diversity sprouts
in alchemical wonder
as rays become
trees,
grasses and all manner
of life

Ra,
the progenitor,
giver of life
arcing across the (conquered) sky
without peer
or challenge
lord of life,
emulated, imitated
by pretenders
solar deities
that die and are reborn
as the sun
in heaven and hell

the fiery phallus
of gold
that birthed
Horus,
the Father reborn
as the circular Son

how many pretenders
have failed to usurp

the solitary lord
of the sky?
