

War is not Chess

by reese Saturday, May 3 2014, 1:02am

international / prose / post

With the situation in the Ukraine reaching the required level of 'crisis,' Russian forces must now support freedom fighters in all US/NATO occupied nations to undertake massive offensives and retake their sovereign nations and territories (Kosovo) in order to stretch both NATO's and Washington's resources as thin as possible and then it must mount a major offensive and retake the Ukraine and kick the fascist junta back to the Washington operatives that control and support it. Then it should allow the LIBERATED Ukrainian PEOPLE to conduct elections without fear or favour and elect a government of its own choosing without interference from Moscow or Washington.

The nation/s that support a free Ukraine in this way become a friend of the nation/people and strong future allies of a free Ukraine; neither the USA or NATO with their brazen and DESPISED neo-Nazi fascist allies and proxy ILLEGITIMATE 'government' would have a hope of interfering again. Knight moves to bishop 5, check, you wanker Zbig! Play it anyway you wish, we are able to defeat you in an instant with the above and other simple strategies and you would then LOSE THE LOT! Your move, moron!

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-1123.html>