

The Rapid Advance of ISIS

by hassan Friday, Jun 13 2014, 3:15am

international / prose / post

The lack of urgency in Washington is Intriguing

Caution is advised in view of the extreme rapidity of the advance of this proxy warrior group the USA employed in Libya (and Syria) to topple Gaddafi and fight against al-Assad -- yes, Washington (via the CIA) has a relationship with ISIL/ISIS, which of course is 'hardly worth mentioning' by the CFR media/propaganda apparatus. Consider that the real target could be Iran, which is awake to the threat. Whether ISIS are duped 'useful idiots' being doubled-dealed is not known, but it's part of the CIA bag of dirty tricks, as most analysts are aware.

The test of whether or not this group of extremists has taken the bit in its teeth or whether it is secretly complying with Wall St/CIA directives is unknown at this stage; however, time must tell the tale very soon and the indicator is of course the future of the rich OIL bearing regions that ISIS and Kurd fighters have captured. So far so good, not yet a problem for America or the world commodity exchanges -- some would say a rather odd scenario for an extreme terrorist group bitterly opposed to western values/interests.

Black ops and shit floats to the surface rather quickly these days -- Snowden was identified as an active operative/agent well before his recent admission of the fact. The truth about ISIS will soon be known and the critical indicator is of course whether oil flows cease and blow western exchanges and commodities markets out the window, or whether profits continue to flow into Wall St coffers uninterrupted -- keep your eye on the OIL and Washington (Wall St).

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-1179.html>