Many people are vaguely aware of what will be presented here, some are completely oblivious to the reality around them. In order to remedy widespread ignorance induced via the privately owned corporate mass media apparatus, we have gathered three only of the most relevant informative videos on Youtube for your convenience and edification.

After viewing the sequence you will be in no doubt as to who/what is responsible for the troubled world in which we live today. Enjoy the presentation and share with those who may benefit most from this information.

I would add -- it is time, for the democratic majority, to legally take back our governments and WORLD before it is too late. Many of the scenarios/topics covered in the videos have already transpired:
