As most people are aware Rupert Murdoch is an Australian Jew via the matrilineal line -- therefore he is the real Jewish deal -- forget that 'Rupert' is not a Jewish name Mayor Koch, this man is the real 'Meyer McCoy.'

Rupert Murdoch, King maker-breaker

Murdoch inherited one insignificant, floundering South Australian newspaper from Father Keith, he quickly built a media empire in Oz and used it to depose popular Australian Prime Minister, Gough Whitlam in the early 70's, notwithstanding the help he received from the CIA and treasonous Governor General, John Kerr.

The annihilation of a national leader via the media was something new to Oz culture; Australians WERE a highly educated, socially aware population and perhaps rather naively we just didn't expect Murdoch to succeed in his gross, simplistic, attacks on a popular sitting PM; but succeed he did and that was the incident that formed my encounter with Murdoch.

Whitlam was a nationalist and real independent Oz leader in stark contrast to the shameless servile political lackeys of recent history. Aussies young and old admired and respected Whitlam for his visionary ideals and his pragmatic political choices, one of which was to withdraw Australian involvement in America's illegal war in Indo-China. Whitlam saved Oz youth and me from further harm with the stroke of a pen, we were out of that murderous, unpopular ideological war for good, 'onya Gough!

No-one expected Murdoch to be successful in his relentless, undisguised, gross onslaught against Whitlam, however, the opposition party had blocked supply and Whitlam did not encourage a plebiscite even though the vast majority of Australians were personally offended by the manner in which the USA and Murdoch deposed Whitlam, though, as you are able to appreciate some of us have long memories and are sticklers for propriety, LEGALITY and a 'FAIR GO' -- something criminal America and scurrilous, gutter-rat Jews know nothing about.

That incident was the first time Murdoch tested his newly acquired media power -- he had gone on to appropriate numerous TV channels and newsprint media, nation wide; however, his methods were and remain prurient, puerile and sensationalist, Murdoch is the undisputed king of gutter-rat journalism, he is clearly a man that lacks a moral code, which, of course, indicates that he has no integrity whatsoever -- in fact, after his recent support for the murderous and illegal Iraq invasion, which resulted in the first human holocaust of the new century, the man has earned the status of international criminal.

It is clear by his methods and behaviour that Murdoch seeks only power, his media empire is simply a means to an end, he clearly relishes the fact that he is able to influence international events and the course of nations simply by installing political leaders that obey and serve him, see disgusting pic of current Oz PM, Abbott, sucking up to Murdoch to ensure his success at the polls. Yet in view of all his accumulated power and influence Murdoch is so easily checked it's almost laughable that no-one has stopped him to date.

But what real qualifications does Murdoch possess to influence the course of nations and select national leaders, short answer NONE, none whatsoever; he has proven on numerous occasions that he is a VERY poor judge of character, the leaders he installs have deeply flawed personalities, Tony Blair was perhaps the most pathological leader Murdoch supported, Bush is a moron and Cheney is a psychopath; Oz PM Kevin Rudd, whom Murdoch stated, "would make a good prime minister" was known as a 'do-nothing' catastrophe, he suffered from a severe psychiatric complaint, Narcissistic Personality Disorder (NPD) and could easily be manipulated by anyone with a camera or that pledged eternal allegiance.

Juliar Gillard was known to be extraordinarily insular, incompetent and to suffer from a severe lack integrity; however, Murdoch's comments relating to his latest puppet PM, Tony Abbott, begin to put his judgement in question.

Murdoch stated that Abbott was a "good, honest man to be admired;" in view of the FACT that the entire nation was/is aware that Abbott is a brazen sexist, buffoon, heartless bully, dunce (suppository) and the most reprehensible LIAR that has ever occupied the office of PM, it would seem that Murdoch has indeed lost it -- he was recently referred to as a "demented plutocrat" by a senior conservative minister in the Abbott government, are you reading this Rupert? It seems as though Murdoch enjoys installing and deposing leaders to prove to himself how powerful he is -- it is also very revealing that Murdoch's choices have ALL been severely psychiatrically flawed, especially dishonest and deceptive LIAR, Tony Abbott, who suffers from numerous pathological complaints.

Murdoch may be extremely talented in business management and enterprise but that does not qualify him to bake a cake, meddle in politics or choose a wife. His media empire serves no positive purpose whatsoever, it is best described as a degenerative propaganda apparatus. Tightly regulating Murdoch's media and prohibiting him from meddling in politics has become an imperative for any nation that hopes to retain a democratic system of government, Murdoch is clearly a top down businessman -- in political terms that makes him a fascist and we should all note his decided preference for linear thinking conservative governments.

Murdoch's media should be threatened with nationalisation if he persists in his arrogance and meddling; I mean who the fuck does this tawdry Jew think he is subverting the democratic process of NATIONS? Meddling in matters he knows virtually nothing about has resulted in the most incompetent leadership Australia and other western nations have been forced to endure for the past few decades -- it must CEASE NOW!

Murdoch's current criminal status -- supporting known criminals, WMD and convincing innocent nations to go to war based on LIES allows for his immediate apprehension/detention in order to hold him accountable for his complicity in war and other crimes against humanity. "Demented plutocrats" must learn that intentionally meddling in the process of democracy comes at a very high price indeed and all fines and penalties should be proportionate to the total worth of the offender, for Murdoch's media enterprises fines would and should be in the billions of dollars.

Characters like Murdoch are not affected by lesser measures they must face RUIN if found to be guilty of major crimes. Why nations allow Murdoch to distract, distort, fabricate, propagandise and play God is a mystery to me -- Murdoch would be insignificant in any nation that has an honest, independent, REPRESENTATIVE democratic government.

The immediate task for Australians is to force LYING and deceptive Abbott out of office NOW (not tomorrow or in three years) and hold a proper FREE and FAIR election -- and God help anyone foolish enough to interfere with the democratic process of selecting a REPRESENTATIVE government in Australia.

[Aussies should be aware that Bill Shorten is already in line for the top job -- be very careful that good votes are not wasted on elitist servants like Shorten or other members of the OWNED major parties.]
