

Woolworths Staff Preparing to Fight Back

Westfield owner Frank Lowy, a former Mossad agent and former co-owner -- with Larry Silverstein -- of the infamous World Trade Center buildings in New York, yes, the buildings that Mossad agents packed with explosives and nano-thermite to cut through all the steel sub-structure so the buildings would free-fall vertically down to the ground -- and as all available video evidence suggests, it was an expert demolition but a severely flawed (fake) 'terrorist attack' but Jews always grab the (insurance) money and run and so we have Frank the Mossad terrorist in Oz running his mega-shopping malls and pretending he is an honest Jewish businessman, not the mass murdering Semitic scum that he actually is.

His wealth (insurance money from the Twin Towers) and influence has enabled him to prevail upon a former prime minister, John Howard, to 'fix' an off-shore tax evasion rort that made the front pages in Oz -- there is no lower scum on this earth than Lowy and his murdering Mossad cohorts.

Lowy's shopping complexes are built on American designs and so they easily fall prey to vermin particularly rats, which are now in plague proportions in his Bondi Junction shopping complex; on some nights and mornings the rat shit literally carpets the internal staff access corridors but not a great deal of pest activity is seen in the day by shoppers as rats are predominantly nocturnal and the rat shit is hurriedly removed by cleaners on a very regular basis.

I am Woolworths staff and I'm not fond of arranging stock on the shelves and having a rat almost the size of a cat attack me trying to escape from behind stock, the rats in Woolies are so well fed they can barely run! Now I'll inform you all how this problem is handled by Lowy's Westfield management, they lay a few poison traps in the corridors and other easily accessed locations while the rats hide and breed in all the inaccessible crevices and spaces -- hardly an effective strategy but it does satisfy local Council and that's all that matters to the Jews that run the complex!

We have complained bitterly about the rats but Lowy's management team, in true Jewish fashion, says it 'our' problem, as they have fulfilled council regulations regarding traps and poison -- what a tragic bubonic joke Lowy is playing on all the lessees and the gentile Australian shopping public.

But my concern is regarding the two-legged variety of rat that attempts to pass as Woolies' management. Second in charge of the BJ store, is one Robert Borgio, while he hasn't yet developed a nose twitch and lateral rat whiskers, the Kafkaesque transformation is well under way. He either ignores critical issues or 'throws-off' onto the hapless floor staff, which are at the bottom of the pecking order, to him staff are simply a target for his ethnic style of abuse, intimidation and harassment, which I would add, he has been cited for on so many occasions one wonders whose arse he is licking or indeed, whose cock he is sucking in upper management as nothing has been done about this clown to date.

Does Mr Borgio or his superiors consider the health issues associated with the rat plague and the threat it poses to Woolies' shoppers? No, he is too busy harassing floor staff and expressing his pathological temperament to everyone; apparently if anyone dares refuse him he retorts in true dictatorial fashion, "are you saying no to me" (Napoleon)? At that point one feels like saying 'you can either get fucked or shove it up your arse, you're a manager, the choice is yours!'

Then the mass media does a story on the CEO of Woolworths who apparently failed miserably in his two previous positions, so the Woolies Board hires him and now things begin to make sense, an incompetent clown at the top breeds incompetence and folly throughout the entire managerial structure.

We (staff) must now be patient as Mr Borgio is a time bomb, he is a certainty to breach existing Industrial Law, which would open the litigation flood gates -- psychological and physical trauma sustained by persistent work pressure, intimidation and harassment. The truth is Mr Borgio is a gold mine for harassed floor staff and a disaster for upper management and the Board. Numerous staff have already sought legal advice which is very clear on these matters. You -- Woolworths Board and upper management -- have been told!

Cheap as Shit
