

Reprehensible Coward Putin Warns Globalist Puppet Obama

by druze Friday, Oct 17 2014, 12:57pm

international / prose / post

In a press statement delivered in Serbia -- a traditional ally that Russia callously abandoned in its time of greatest need -- Putin foolishly and blindly attempted to reason with America. Futility best describes Putin's misguided efforts to reason with a 'singularly and uncontrollably driven' nation, to paraphrase Russian Foreign Minister Sergei Lavrov in his recent address to the UN in which he described the NATO/US alliance as a manic pact of aggression and the greatest threat to world peace that exists.

Vladimir Putin, a response too late

It could easily be said that Putin's statement in Politika is a 'trifle' late (understatement of the century). Where was Putin when Bush and his neo-cons were surrounding Russian borders with offensive missile installations, what did he think the US was doing, preparing for a picnic or preparing for a pre-emptive nuclear strike? Putin will discover that inaction and cowardice attracts its own very special reward but Putin is clearly far too busy playing cult of personality mythic hero to concern himself with a nuclear threat on his borders.

Is Putin familiar with America's psychopathic pursuit of "Full Spectrum Dominance" or does he need a translator to spell it out? And before the toothless tigers of the alternative media shriek that I have missed the subtlety of Putin's 'threatening' (LOL) remarks, I would respond by saying I am an insider and am very familiar with the subtle and gross in political discourse, so please, save your timid, ineffective roars and feeble comments for your deluded readers.

I have not missed the point, on the contrary, Lavrov belatedly spelled it out and what's more the reality of geo-political affairs over the past decade also ASSERTS that reality.

Wishful thinking best describes those that have missed the bold, OPEN and highly aggressive expansionism of the globalist elite that dictate policy to all western 'democratic' nations -- Putin is familiar with the elite as he has taken millions in blood money, which remains in western controlled banks in the Caribbean, you easily led alternative media dunces.

The reason Putin failed to act when the USA was installing its 'defensive' missile systems on Russia's borders was he was suckered and was too busy playing classic socialist personality cult (paper tiger) hero.

So now, true to form, the US stabs Putin in the back, gee, its 'never' done that before, because Putin, under pressure from his military, dared to stall the globalist push in the Middle East and the Ukraine. Well, history could have told you so, Vladimir, just ask Saddam, Greece and a few hundred others the USA has historically befriended and then stabbed in the back!

Is Putin hoping that his mouse-like threats will register on a linear thinking, psychopathically driven America? Is Putin aware that only action registers on psychopaths? America will never digress from its make or bust PNAC agenda which the globalists went to so much trouble to formulate, they have a plan which surely you must be familiar with. To put it succinctly, to remove all threats to the dollar, appropriate the oil and other valuable resources of weaker nations, remove all obstructions to energy pipelines and strategic corridors around the globe and God help anyone that gets in the way, and that includes Russia and China.

In other words Vlad, in the interests of self-preservation you are forced to act so you might as well start with Serbia and its legal claim on the stolen province of Kosovo, which now hosts the largest American military base in Europe, thanks to previous Russian inaction, in fact had Russia curtailed US/NATO designs in Yugoslavia, the test case for the globalists, the world would be a better place today -- if its any consolation, international sovereignty law support Serbian ownership of Kosovo and so does a UN charter -- so go for it, you mouse, REGISTER SOMETHING OTHER THAN YOUR INEFFECTIVE WORDS (LIBYA) AND SQUEAKS!

My recommendation to the Russian military is to take Putin and his useless, COWARDLY cohorts outside and shoot them, then meet US/NATO aggression with greater pre-emptive tactical responses, as another well known characteristic of the US is to create false flag ops in order to preemptively strike a perceived enemy.

<http://www.informationclearinghouse.info/article39978.htm>

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-1316.html>