

The So-called 'Independent, Alternative' Media

by nano Wednesday, Nov 12 2014, 10:25pm

international / prose / post

The corporate mass media (MM) with its huge resources did a study some time back which was extremely revealing, to summarise; it concluded that the corporate MM, largely directed by the CFR, continues to lead in thematic and topical directions and the (stupid) 'alternative' media follows that lead as is occurring as I write, which of course defeats the most basic purpose of INDEPENDENT reportage.

I need not refer 'independent' journos to their dictionaries to look up the words "independent" and "alternative," however, it must be stressed that the MM follows and sells the agenda of unrepresentative minority elites, which is widely known in alternative media circles, so why, for fuck's sake, does the ALTERNATIVE media allow itself to be led by the nose by the people they oppose and follow the planned agendas and orchestrations of criminal ruling elites -- dwell on this critical issue, please?

We should all note how the MM operates to always distract -- especially when things are going badly for the elites -- and to constantly glorify their agenda via THEIR 'news' (propaganda). For instance, the USA, its vassals and proxy fighters failed miserably in Syria and so they rolled out ISIS and proceeded to saturate the wires in order to deflect from their failure to oust Assad and install a puppet regime -- Assad's forces fight simply because, as they have stated time and again, they have no choice, as the only alternative is a bunch of fanatical extremists that wish to install a totalitarian, medieval, regressive regime. Assad does not rule by terror or oppression his forces have made a very conscious decision and with the help of Russia have foiled the evil plans of western criminal elites, which have to date devastated every nation they have 'liberated' -- Libya today is a hell hole as are most other nations the USA has ILLEGALLY interfered with.

Naturally the MM has almost implemented a media blackout on Libya as it clearly highlights the ineptitudes, gross failures and CRIMES of western elites, notwithstanding the extreme human, social and political tragedies western elites have caused around the globe -- surely these matters are deserving of coverage and analysis, as they clearly compromise elite globalist interests, however, the moronic alternative media unfortunately continues to be nose-ringed and led by the forces they oppose -- brilliant! For example, the bereft of objectivity, American 'independent media' continues to cover stories on the puppet show of the mid-terms when almost the entire global population is aware that these 'opposing parties' are literally owned by the same interests -- give me a fuckin' break, morons!

A lesson from the recent past, which is now lost on the independent media but is paramount in importance to the MM. History records with extreme clarity how the then non-concentrated national media championed the social reforms of the 60's and opposed the agendas of corporate elites that just love to profit from war, human tragedy and misery -- I of course refer to the unjust, illegal Vietnam war and the many social movements of the time. Now a question, did the media drop the Vietnam story and allow itself to be distracted by the trickery of minority elites? NO! they continued coverage of the unjust war and never veered from their purpose, which was to compromise the powers and put an end to the war, which after YEARS (not days) of unwavering focus/coverage finally resulted in the cessation of hostilities -- in which, I would add, over FIVE million innocent peasants and civilians lost their lives largely due to Kissinger's adherence to criminal, indiscriminate 'carpet bombing' campaigns -- a horrendous crime for which Kissinger and others have never been held accountable!

Need I emphasise the point? The alternative media's primary function is to remain focused on issues that compromise the clearly inept, criminal elites and fight constantly for social justice globally. The failures of criminal elites must never be ignored, they must be grasped and clung to like a drowning man would cling to a floating branch. These issues must be pursued and covered constantly for YEARS if necessary. Focus ONLY on what achieves the desired end, not on what the MM presents, as their criminal agenda and methods are clear.

Only then does society have a chance of real social reform and JUSTICE. Never allow the MM to control the debate/social narrative and social discourse -- I can scarcely believe I have been forced to spell out the basic principles of alternative coverage and not allowing oneself to be led regardless of whether one agrees or opposes MM content -- it's the topics they wish to control, can't you see?

The criminal elites must be HOUNDED out of existence in exactly the same way the progressive media of the 60's remained focused on the Vietnam illegal war until it was untenable for the elites to pursue it. And that is done by focusing on what compromises their agenda NOT on the topics they present for consumption.

[Naturally the MM, including Google, will do its utmost to ignore, background or smother this piece, so if you are in agreement disseminate this analysis manually as widely as possible, thank you!]

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-1342.html>