

What the World Needs Now is Applied Law and Order

by serg Monday, Nov 24 2014, 11:30am

international / prose / post

The global population is fed up with States, particularly Israel and the US, making a mockery of international and local law -- these nations murder on a regular basis and call it defence -- no-one believes a hair of it, notwithstanding other criminal new 'laws' of indefinite detention, 'legal' assassinations, un-penalised Wall St bankers and other corporate offenders. But this short piece is only focused on LAW and those States and groups that imagine they are above it. NATO for example, committed so many crimes in Libya it's a wonder printed statutes didn't spontaneously burst into flames.

So I sound a clear warning to politicians and others that fraudulently deceive populations only to renege on all their pledges and promises after gaining office -- Tony Abbott of Oz and Barack Obama are screaming examples, but the most serious offenders are nation destroyers and habitual civilian killers -- collateral damage my arse!

The global population has had enough, you don't believe me, well just continue handing out fines and sentences to citizens for misdemeanours and flaunting State impunity and see what happens.

YOU have been told!

Disgraced former president Richard Nixon in a feeble attempt to justify his crime of break and enter said, "if the president does it, then its legal" -- what a croc!

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-1354.html>