Putin, for all his rhetoric and showmanship continues to be a pawn of the global elite, as his millions in western banks clearly indicates.

Russia under Putin

Furthermore, Putin is a reprehensible COWARD for allowing the US alliance to install offensive missile systems on Russia's borders -- try to imagine one Soviet leader taking this lying down!

Yet the solution to US/NATO expansionism/aggression is simple -- could you imagine a population more fearful of attack and death than the wimpish US population? Not even Stalin could have imposed indefinite detention without charge or trial, presidential kill lists and torture 'laws'. If you are looking for national cowardice simply hearken back to genital groping at US airports -- what population on earth would submit to such humiliation and personal intrusion, I ask you?

So what should Putin do? Attack and mean it! Purge his borders of offensive missile systems, the installation of which was a clear act of pre-emptive war; what a mouse Putin is; his generals are furious, as Putin is clearly the West's most effective weapon against Russia. As for Lavrov and his too little, too late, speeches, commentators have been screaming for YEARS exactly what Russia failed to articulate when it was necessary -- give me a break!

The USA is clearly a failing superpower with a terrified population, any REAL show of FORCE would send them scurrying or trigger the war the US wants -- I am talking OBLITERATION, nuclear obliteration of the continental USA and I MEAN IT! That is how it must be done today, as past acquiescence has made the situation critical; if the US wants war then it must be on Russia's and China's terms, a mobilisation the likes of which the world has never seen should be enough to sort the situation. Western Europe and continental North America must be targeted first as these are the locations of western ruling elites that control all western governments today, if they real-ise they are about to be eliminated watch what happens overnight.

Fair fuckin' dinkum, the entire lawless world is sleeping or cowering in fear; it is time to ACT swiftly and without hesitation. You reading this Putin, as you read plenty on this site?

So what the fuck are YOU doing? As stated in a previous post to this site, if you fail to secure Russia at this late stage then your generals should take you out back and put a bullet in your cowardly head. Then an arrangement and meaningful show of force with alliance partner China should contain the USA NATO and vassals -- their aggressive bullying and marauding of much weaker nations should be dealt with DIRECTLY, EFFECTIVELY and PERMANENTLY.

Take note, the first line of offence would be to eliminate by any and all means available the members of the elite core of the world's top fifty mega-corporations and every member of the worlds banking dynasties, the Rockefellers and Rothschilds, all previous and current members of the Bilderberg group, CFR and Trilateral Commission, especially -- and all their lackeys in turn, in time, then PEACE would at least have a glimmer of a chance.

Regardless of whatever else is done the criminal global elite MUST be purged.

If war is desired by the USA then be the FIRST to STRIKE -- truly, the superpower that hesitates is lost!
