

Oz Gun laws and other Contractionist Policies: Ineffective

by jess Wednesday, Dec 17 2014, 8:43pm

international / prose / post

A pro-gun Australian senator claims that our gun laws have created a nation of victims -- not so, as respondent, war criminal and mass murderer, John Howard, is well aware. Howard emerged from his hole to defend his policy of disarming all Australians except of course those that wish to obtain a weapon by any means available -- regulators have recently proven they are essentially ineffective in controlling the underground trade in firearms.

The public is too quick to forget the automatic military-style weapons used by 'brothers for life' at Rose Bay, of all places, in an attempt to assassinate an opponent. The criminal morons, armed to the teeth with highly illegal and difficult to procure weaponry AND munitions, sprayed a harbour luxury craft with machine gun fire and of course failed to kill their target though a wounded individual limped to Bondi and attempted to seek medical assistance and was arrested.

This incident should have alerted the Oz public to the ineptitudes of our idiot over-kill police and so-called security agencies, you can be sure the majority of those wounded and killed during the Martin Place siege sustained their injuries from police/military rounds NOT shotgun duck-load pellets. The point is Howard's contractionist gun laws are an abject failure and as ineffective as our police and security agencies who continue to have difficulty finding their dicks to take a piss -- so let's cut the crapulous propaganda, Mr Baird and Mr Abbott, the truth is plain to see!

But to return to un-convicted war criminal at large, John Howard -- are you reading this ASIO, police and judiciary? Howard claimed that it is an exercise in logic that the availability of firearms allows for criminal mass murders, well, HE should know about mass murder! HOWEVER, Howard is also acutely aware that the most dangerous weapons are LIES and DECEIT from our government officials and government agencies/institutions; Howard is jointly responsible, with Bush and Blair, for the murder of over one million innocent civilians in Iraq and the displacement of five million people, all BASED ON LIES and CALCULATED DECEIT, methods his protégé, Tony Abbott, specialises in today, yet Howard remains at large and unconvicted for HIS crimes and Aussies wonder why or how one nutter was able to "slip through the cracks" -- yawning chasms would be a more accurate analogy -- give Oz a break!

What Oz is really facing is 'scratch my back and I'll scratch yours,' incompetence and corruption in high places. Has it yet occurred to our 'illustrious' authorities that Abbott is guilty of fraud re: the stolen office of PM, the man/criminal should be placed on trial for obvious fraud not in front of compliant media cameras and allowed to continue lying and deceiving the Australian public. As for Howard -- in view of our clearly inept and corrupt agencies and police -- he should beware that emerging from his hole once too often may result in his head being blown off by one of the easily available weapons his contractionist policy failed to get -- don't even think about it, Abbott!