

The Real News that never makes the Headlines

Foremost of course are the innumerable crimes committed by the USA and its allies -- the western propaganda machine milks every instance of death that 'useful extremists' commit whereas the death of millions in Indo-China, Iraq and elsewhere never get a mention in the privately owned, partial mainstream media! So let's hear it for REALITY -- the world's leading civilian killing TERRORIST nation is the USA by a country mile and yet no war crimes prosecutions! Isn't that strange or maybe not if you control the ICC and the western media apparatus, which specialises in hiding the grizzly truth and distracting the masses?

So now they know what they can do with their manufactured news, Uncle CFR, stick it up their elitist, globalist arses along with puppet Obama's State of the Union speech -- grotesque fiction and a measure of the degree to which America is divorced from reality.

But the above is not the most critical hidden material, something more potentially horrific and devastating is imminent and there's nothing anyone can do but prepare for the inevitable.

It relates to increased solar flare and sun-spot activity and the shifting magnetic pole of the earth which is warning humanity that a routine polar inversion is well underway and when a critical stage is reached the inversion just flips and that is REAL NEWS, billions dying in a day!

See if you are able to verify the real from manufactured fiction and then mete out justice to Wall St and its pawns in Washington; time is up and there is nothing to lose. It's better to die like a fighting lion than be extinguished on your knees like a subservient dog.

The other highly likely effect of this dramatic polar shift and the accumulated pollution in our atmosphere is that it may temporarily dramatically weaken the ozone layer to the point where cosmic radiation fries the surface of the earth - so it's true after all, the earth will be consumed by 'fire.'
