The overwhelming majority of Australians want Abbott out -- simple enough, and they have made their displeasure against pathologically lying, disingenuous Abbott known by voting conservative governments out of office in the last two State elections -- the message from the public couldn't be clearer, the Queensland election catastrophe spelled it out in no uncertain terms.

However, power-obsessed Abbott, in typical megalomania and the supreme arrogance he is noted/despised for, continues to ignore the wishes of the public at HUGE cost to his party and himself. His position is CLEARLY UNTENABLE yet he continues, with a tiny faction of party supporters/sycophants, to lie, distract (terrorism beat up) and do everything in his duplicitous bag of obvious tricks, to dupe the people, BUT all his efforts are clearly in vain as the people are firmly locked on one task, removing him from office, and that is that!
