

The Most Bloodthirsty, Murderous Religion on the Planet

Take a guess, Islam right? WRONG, in upper case! Christianity has no peer as the most murderous religion on the planet no other religion comes close to its record of blood, guts, inhumanity, torture, constant wars and mass murder. Any good historical text would verify this for those still able to research the truth and arrive at realistic conclusions.

Now, if we were to believe the propaganda machines of the west we would all say Islam, what horrid religion beheads people? But a good look at the historical record and the tortures of the Spanish Inquisition, the CIA equivalent of the Church of Rome, in days past confronts us with reality not the drivel that issues from the western mass media. The sheer brutality of the tortures, and torture machines still extant in museums, would blow your feeble American minds. How about the wholesale slaughter of indigenous people wherever Christianity spread its message of 'peace and forgiveness,' what a laugh, total farce and searing hypocrisy!

The wars of Europe since records were kept depict this 'peaceful' religion in its true light, constant conflict and bloodshed culminating in the industrialised genocide by the Nazis, notwithstanding the total loss of life caused by that Christian nation. Christians are not only the leading killers of the world they are the most despicable hypocrites to have ever walked the planet and any holier than thou attitude, including 'we are better and more civilised than the rest,' is wholly unfounded -- face facts you self-righteous, murderers, nothing compares to the murderous zeal that indelibly stains Christians of the past and TODAY! And there's no escaping the historical record and modern statistics.

However, it's more convenient to blame and demonise the other, whoever that may be, and sit in front of your television sets soaking up lie after lie to make you feel better about yourselves - well don't kid yourselves as today's Christian world continues the bloodthirsty tradition except at speed. Five million innocent peasants killed by indiscriminate carpet bombing campaigns in Indo-China and we haven't begun to count the innocents slaughtered by NATO and the USA globally since that satanic duo embarked on its world mission to create 'peace and stability,' you mind-numbing morons - give reason and me a break!

It may be time to read the Gospels and learn something of the life of Jesus, the Jewish reformist who would clearly disown any of today's Christians. As for the numerous Christian sects and their perverted paedophile Church leaders where the fuck are you when the blood needlessly flows? I can't hear you decrying the killings of today or mobilising your followers to restore peace and justice. Hypocrisy is your name and your fate is sealed.

The indisputable point has been made; I hope you remember it the next time you all look in the mirror, you despicable, disgusting Christian cowards.

The Truth may hurt but it doesn't kill anyone.
