If you want incontrovertible proof, simply look at those that pay the least and most (percentage of income) in taxes.

Oz PM Tony Abbott, corporate lackey extraordinaire

Globalisation has allowed those that earn most to pay least while workers, who can least afford it, pay the highest percentage rates in taxes and yet governments continue to oppress and penalise average workers/citizens while allowing monumental avoidance schemes to exist for the wealthiest – sound fair to you? Maybe, if you're a moron!

Now consider how it got that way, GLOBALISATION – for whose benefit? Who does it really serve? Why those that designed it of course, the mega-bankers and transnational corporations, surprise, surprise, same old scoundrels again! O, but I forgot, morons do not notice the obvious, like dog's balls in their stupid faces!

Now consider the single most obvious omission from the current globalisation model, GLOBALISED PARITY WAGES for similar work. Globalisation allows mega-corporations to exploit the huge disparity in wages and the broad differences in the cost of production between developed and undeveloped nations, so off they go and leave local workers in soup kitchens and on welfare, notwithstanding that globalisation is also tailored for huge tax avoidance schemes, which only mega-bankers and large corporations are able to exploit – so who benefits again, same rogues every time! Which rogues (for the morons)? The same rogues that designed the model AND use their ill-gotten gains to buy governments to maintain their advantage and screw people like you! And after three decades of rampant exploitation and tax avoidance they still haven't globalised wages or reformed the taxation system – sound fair to you?

Furthermore, when these rogues cross the line into pure illegality, I refer to the exposed frauds that gutted the GLOBAL economy in 2008, who pays the price, why average taxpaying morons like you, as it is clear that only morons would tolerate the searing injustices that prevail today – now does THAT sound accurate to you?

So what are you waiting for? STORM the capitol and Wall St and string the rogues and bought politicians up by the balls and flaps? Or alternatively you can just do what you're doing now, NOTHING, and continue to be right royally screwed in the arse.

It is CLEAR who is responsible, not the rogues, as that is human frailty, but the majority that allow it all to occur. The entire world wouldn't serve criminal minorities if majorities weren't morons, cowards and slaves - suck on that hard reality for a while! The next time you wish to point the finger take a good look at yourself in the mirror first.

And if you require a little more salt in the wound none of the rogues, cheats liars and criminals have yet been held accountable or jailed for their now proven monumental FRAUDS and crimes.
