Tony Abbott, Australia's 'fearless' leader should now be accustomed to wearing an Indonesian turd on his face, this is the second time ignorant, schoolboy populist politician Widodo has dumped on Abbott's face. The cruel, barbaric and completely inhumane treatment that Andrew Chan and Myuran Sukumaran and their distraught families received throughout their ordeal extended right up to the point of the firing squad, where only the two Australian nationals facing execution were initially denied the right to receive comfort from their chosen religious representatives. The primitive message was loud and clear, fuck you Australia and your spineless, lackey political leaders.

Coward, dunce and LIAR, Tony Abbott

The first occasion Abbott displayed his cowardice and incompetence as a national leader was when he ordered the incompetent AFP to drop the case against the murderers of the Balibo five. Widodo knew he had Abbott's measure that day, Abbott terrified of the prospect of a flood of resurgent Islamists and refugee boats that Indonesia could unleash at any time it chooses, dropped the case against former high ranking Indonesian officials KNOWN to have ordered the murder of five unarmed Aussie journalists in East Timor, that was Abbott's supreme gutless, appeasement offering, but Widodo realised from this extraordinary cave-in that Abbott was a spineless no-account and so the horrid and cruel political charade leading up to and continuing to the last minute of the Bali duo's demise was directed at Australia's spineless politicians whose entreaties for clemency were ignored completely in the last week prior to the executions. And so Australia AND Indonesia know the calibre of the man that lied and connived his way into office, notwithstanding that opposition leader Bill 'useless' Shorten, could barely manager a whimper of protest.

Australia has a legitimate case against the murderers of the Balibo five and should immediately re-open the case; Widodo has made much of Indonesian sovereign law, well he should receive a good dose of Aussie sovereign law in return BUT with the PROVEN shit-eating, spineless maggots (excluding independents) that populate parliament today the likelihood of Oz asserting its rights and SOVEREIGN LAW are minimal at best. Only two days after the disgusting executions of the Bali duo, Abbott, true to his lackey and cowardly character is now openly stating that Oz must mend relations with Indonesia - rubbish, as Abbott's submissiveness and appalling display of cowardice will only earn him more contempt and trouble from the uninformed and ignorant Widodo who was unaware the drugs involved were not for local consumption:

“When asked why he [Widodo] had been so hardline when the Bali Nine were taking drugs out of the country, not bringing them in, Mr Joko replied: "Says who that he was taking them [drugs] out?" My emphasis.

And Abbott wants good relations with this uninformed, barbaric native IDIOT, impossible!

Informed Aussies should now reconsider placing Abbott on trial for the calculated fraud he perpetrated on the Australian people/nation when he brazenly stole the highest office in the land. Forcing Abbott into court for fraud is a simple matter and would finish him and save Australia as the case, calculated deceit and fraudulently obtaining benefit and gain, is already a matter of record and PROVEN. Oz should now be appreciating how liars and cowards from both major parties are making Australia an international laughing stock to be shitted on by whichever backward government in the region takes a fancy to Australia-bashing.

So soon after ANZAC day need I say that our current crop of political lackeys and submissive, spineless cowards DO NOT reflect the traditional values and character of Australia?

Now get to work, grow a spine, and save your arse, Mr Abbott, re-open the Balibo Five case and prosecute the known INDONESIAN offenders under local and international LAW. Suck on that Widodo and primitive, ignorant, barbaric Indonesia.

Schoolyard populist politician, primitive 'pribumi', Joko Widodo
