

The Plan

by jude Friday, Jul 10 2015, 12:06pm

international / prose / post

In the eighties the global (banker) ruling elite implemented a plan that has far exceeded their wildest dreams - debt-slavery for citizens and nations as a means to contain, enslave and plunder. Issue easy credit to indebt everyone and depress real wages while incrementally increasing costs. This strategy also applied to nations but on a macro scale.

And so today we have a debt-strapped population that is so oppressed it can barely breathe, let alone act in any defiant, meaningful, democratic manner when confronted with outrageous injustices and oppressive conditions/laws.

In the 20th century politicians lied to the limit of what the public would tolerate, note the Watergate bust and the near impeachment of Richard Nixon -- who was forced to resign to save face -- as a measure of a citizenry with integrity and moral standards that held its leaders to account; it wasn't so long ago.

Today, however, overwhelmed by the debt-induced pressures of living, citizens tolerate politicians lying almost non-stop about everything - the elites are beside themselves with glee, but they haven't stopped to wallow in their diabolical success; with each new monumental injustice and screaming offence they perpetrate, the reaction is almost nil -- there goes democracy, which has been replaced by plutocracy and oligarchy, fascism by the obscenely rich. And the people, which should have nipped this evil fruit in the bud are nowhere to be seen, heard or witnessed in action, they cower instead in their insular domiciles and pretend everything is just fine when they know better but are too cowardly to protest or react to heinous, moral and physical abuses deliberately perpetrated against them; nevertheless, the fact remains that less than one percent of the global population dominate the billions of invertebrate, complicit citizens on our globe.

Now, I am not so naïve as to expect that the exposure of massive crimes and corruption in the highest offices of the land would motivate bleating sheep into action, I write/communicate simply because I'm a writer -- do bears shit in the woods(?) -- other cultural analysts and commentators write for their own reasons. However, do not misunderstand, I have given up on the masses as they are successfully herded sheep truly fit for the slaughter of a thousand cuts by the criminal, sociopathic elite that have wrought so much misery, harm, havoc and ruin on humanity over the past few decades. It really is beyond reason and comprehension why people like Cheney, Bush, Blair and Howard of Australia, remain at large for their proven war crimes and orchestrated lies, intentionally designed to deceive entire nations and make populations complicit in THEIR crimes - now think again about the relatively innocuous Watergate bust, which was a simple break and enter to obtain compromising information about political opponents - no-one died, no NATION was ruined yet the people demanded the president's impeachment!

Now dear readers, you have to ask yourselves where you lost your morality and empathy for your fellow human beings, notice I didn't include outrage and social responsibility, as it is widely known among commentators and other communicators that the masses are a lost cause today.

Today we have pathologically lying, mass murdering sociopathic CRIMINAL politicians that are tolerated and even held in high regard - "we came, we saw, he died" -- Hillary Clinton, and the needless deaths of over 500,000 innocent Iraqi children caused directly by US imposed sanctions and embargos on Iraq, BUT it was, "worth it," according to another sociopath that held high office, Madeleine Albright. If these horrendous and clearly sick criminal affronts to civilised humanity go unpunished then I'm afraid the show is over - so expect the absolute worst in the near future, as the evil elites are only getting warmed up and more intoxicated on YOUR cowardice, lack of moral fibre and inaction. As for me and my keyboard comrades, we won't wear a bar of it. I can only speak for myself when I say I will never stop writing about the inhuman injustices and crimes that are committed daily by our (owned) corrupt governments and their institutional apparatuses nor would I allow the public to forget it, which of course does wonders for my popularity and income, but it is INTEGRITY that operates here.

The day is fast approaching, due to inaction on planned, sweeping internet censorship revealed in secret TPP documents by Wikileaks, when my voice and the voice of other human beings that have managed to maintain their basic humanity/integrity will no longer be heard, and the world will be left entirely in the hands of the sickest, mass murdering, faceless, criminal corporate sociopaths known to history, though real history -- perpetual war is necessarily supported by perpetual lies -- will die with the last few dissenting writers/communicators/voices of our time.

To conclude, you gutless, shameless, shit-eaters, this piece is NOT a lament, it is a celebration of the last few people of integrity that refuse to compromise truth, justice and civilised morality.

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-1718.html>