

Labor has NO HOPE with Shorten as Leader

by darcy Monday, Jul 13 2015, 2:57am

international / prose / post

Bill Shorten shouldn't resign over his compromising performance at the Royal Commission, he should resign simply because he clearly is not up to the task of defeating pathologically lying, divisive and incompetent Abbott who continues to target the vulnerable in the community while allowing his elitist masters a free ride, especially on TAX issues.

Useless, Bill Shorten

Shorten has had over eighteen months to hang Abbott up to dry as the reprehensible lackey and liar that he is, however, he has failed miserably as an opposition leader and Abbott has succeeded, with tax-payer funds, to nail Shorten instead. Shorten's performance on every front has been woeful -- Abbott is a known FRAUD, LIAR, DIVISIVE figure and 'wedge-politician,' who is about to hand what's left of Australian sovereignty over to his TPP corporatist masters.

Why Labor didn't relentlessly pursue Abbott for his criminal fraud and service to an unrepresentative, undemocratic wealthy elite is the result of Shorten's weakness, failings and inability to tactically demolish an easy target; Abbott couldn't be happier, he is even hinting at an early election, as the strategy he was handed to 'kill Bill,' has succeeded.

You may ask why Shorten allowed Abbott to get away with his proven deceit and dishonesty so easily, the answer is clear as Labor could not compromise Abbott without compromising Murdoch and the corporate elites that placed Abbott in office as their very obedient errand boy.

I need not elaborate on Shorten's luck-lustre performance in parliament and as an effective leader as every Aussie has become aware of Shorten's failings, courtesy of the Murdoch press!.

There is only one solution for Labor and that is to convince Shorten to step down as leader which is preferable to removing him via the Caucus, as Abbott would capitalise on the merry-go-round of Labor changing leaders. While Shorten is bleeding, Abbott is stalking and early election here we come.

Hopefully Australia would be given another opportunity to install as many REPRESENTATIVE independents in both houses of parliament in order to teach unrepresentative major parties that Australians should never be taken for granted or treated with contempt.

So, Abbott, you lying, duplicitous, traitorous errand boy, do your best and call an election on any pretext you choose, the people are not fools and have your measure, notwithstanding both major parties would receive a well-earned shock, as both major parties clearly serve the same elite interests and sell out average working Aussies -- one party does it on ideological grounds the other (Labor) does it as a matter of expediency, 'whatever it takes, ay, Bill?'

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-1722.html>