To whom are you appealing, Mr Pilger?

I hardly know where to begin as the comedy of errors and the ineffective bleating of antiquated journalists and commentators is overwhelming.

John Pilger with Julian Assange

So let's start with FOOLS, the lot of you!

Assange openly and without the slightest regard for his personal welfare or the pervasive power of the criminal ruling elite, that mass murder with impunity, install and depose governments globally and have the masses nose-ringed by their digital and corporate media, decided that 'he' would take them down, well in your fuckin' narcissistic dreams, Julian. The outcome as I advised the crew at the time would be the end of Assange one way or the other.

Assange has far too high a profile for outright assassination but his present self-inflicted predicament was always the next best option - so guess what Mr "gifted" genius and associates, they nailed you to the wall, as was also predicted by my 'gifted' pet budgie, for fuck's sake?

The earliest treatises on war, tactics and spying refer to stealth, invisibility and speed when taking on a superior force but modern narcissists are far too enamoured by their own reflection and having their faces on the cover of the man's media to concern themselves with stark realities. Has it occurred to any of you that the elite underground is constantly attacking governments and corporations and SUCCEEDING, with NO CASUALTIES, which makes monkeys of intel agencies, the NSA and regulatory authorities, but shoosh, don't tell the corporate mass media that the man is losing the digital war as I write and that those waging this war are EFFECTIVE and freer than most morons could imagine. You see, the more the world becomes dependent on digital technology/infrastructures the more free are those able to master it and that is not the agencies or NSA buffoons that rely on propaganda from Ed Snowden to instil fear in the nose-ringed population - the reality is that government agencies are staffed by fifth-rate burnouts or dunces at best, the hierarchies are staffed by old men that continue to have trouble locating their dicks to take a piss, that is the reality but they sure got you, Julian, so why are you now, after reneging on paying back those that generously supplied your bail, spending a fortune on a lost cause, YOURSELF, you surely were aware of the consequences? Haven't you yet realised you are dealing with homicidal psychopaths and criminals that own governments and their courts? Now idiots and dreamboats alike, chew on some reality not the bleating of antiquated journos with a 60's mindset and those that foolishly take a shot then stand on a hill waving, here I am, blast me!

You are all ineffective to put it as plainly as possible – so wake up to the new reality. It's no longer about mass appeal (the enslaved are a lost cause) it's about elite attacks by elite players that will change the status quo. That is the prevailing reality today whether you clowns accept it or not!

Pilger's latest bleat on Assange for the masochists:
