

'Collateral Damage,' my arse!

by justin Tuesday, Aug 11 2015, 2:24am

international / prose / post

We are talking millions of innocent human lives here not some scrap garbage or expendable merchandise! Whoever in their right mind could justify the murder of innocent civilians using the phrase, 'collateral damage' and hope to evade justice, international laws and conventions, which expressly criminalise the murder of civilians, as drone 'signature strikes' clearly do, is either a criminal, out of their mind or both? It's time to get off the unreality media pills, dreamboats, as someone must pay. Perpetrators or the nation that fails to deal legally with its criminals in high places cannot evade the law or justice forever. There simply is no such thing as killing civilians legally, notwithstanding that every war the US wages today, directly or by proxy, is ILLEGAL.

America has murdered with carpet bombing in Indo-China and ill-advised illegal invasions based on LIES in the Middle East upward of 5 million INNOCENT civilians and not one mass murderer has been held to account to date; and I would add that all States and their leaders are answerable to international law and conventions specifically encoded in order to PREVENT mass murders and the killing of innocent civilians. However, the clearly politicised Hague court only seems to deal with enemies of the US while turning a blind eye to the largest mass murdering nation in modern peace-time history - no world war exists as cover though that may soon change.

Where does America get off 'legalising torture,' compiling and executing secret 'kill lists' or kidnapping citizens and indefinitely detaining them without recourse to a trial - get real! Those actions are clearly criminal in nature and compatible with the methods of organised crime and gangsterism not a representative sovereign government.

The failing of any nation directly involves not only its leaders but the entire population, which are commissioned, in the US, to remove all governments that are clearly criminal and act against the best interests of the people. Need I list the two major US parties that take turns in serving criminal elites in Washington and Wall Street?

The secondary failures of course involve other powerful nations that fail to accuse and demand justice for the clearly criminal actions of rogue states, are you reading this China and Russia, notwithstanding the tiniest nation on the planet is able to pursue these matters in international courts?

So there are NO excuses for any person or nation that fails to dispense their moral obligation and pursue the guilty and hold them to account for their now widely known and recorded crimes.

The law is NOT at fault it is the lack of will or spine among the people that allow these continuing crimes to remain unpunished. However, the REAL REASON the global masses fail to act is they have (passively and voluntarily) allowed human life to be cheapened by criminal elites and that new value affects everyone, as is now very apparent in the USA - America's apathy and cowardice now allow police to murder unarmed black and white civilians with unofficial impunity. So be aware that the new value YOU have placed on human life affects every human being on the planet, including your loved ones - collateral damage, indeed!

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-1776.html>