

Chelsea (Bradley) Manning Victimised Yet Again for Speaking Out

by mitch Monday, Aug 17 2015, 2:20am

international / prose / post

There is one person on this earth, which is now overflowing with cowards, wimps and slaves that has earned my utmost respect and that person is androgynous Chelsea Manning. Manning has already suffered and survived the most horrendous psychological abuse while enduring illegally prolonged solitary confinement, and a 'suicide watch,' which allows prison guards to wake the unfortunate victim every fifteen minutes and ask if they are ok! Give me a break on this obvious form of TORTURE, notwithstanding that Manning's cell was constantly illuminated with bright artificial light 24 hours a day while in restricted solitary confinement.

After surviving pre-trial abuses and tortures, consciously designed to break her, Manning was subject to the most flagrant miscarriage of justice ever recorded in modern history. His/her 'trial' amounted to a Red Queen lunacy, in which the criminally accused Pentagon (PROVEN) sat in judgement of the moral accuser, Manning – of course ensuring a predetermined outcome, yet Manning survived yet again though she faces 35 years incarceration for telling the TRUTH and revealing Pentagon crimes.

I would add at this time that I have been tortured by the criminal 'authorities' myself but my short term torture though severe becomes insignificant compared to what Manning has endured and continues to endure. Manning, of diminutive physical stature has a will, character and moral strength that towers so far above the common herd of humanity today it reaches the stars. And I do not hesitate to salute a peerless hero/heroine of our time.

For daring to write a column in The Guardian, Manning has now been targeted for more horrendous psychological torture and restrictions, which of course are designed to break her. We are assured by the disgraceful travesty of his first trial that Manning will be subject to more of the same injustices and outright criminal lunacy she has faced for years.

I am aware that my appeal for justice regarding Manning's plight will be ignored by the majority of invertebrate humanity populating this polluted earth, however, it is to the brave inheritors of the earth I appeal, not only to resist this criminal persecution but to FREE, that's right, FREE Manning whose only real 'offence' was to expose criminals in high places and the barbaric methods they use to steal other nation's resources and murder millions of innocent people. Manning is a champion and hero of the highest order as he/she was aware there would be no escaping the clutches of ruling criminals that are now planning a nuclear war in the Middle East. Saving Manning in effect is saving ourselves though few are able to see it.

Be assured Ms Manning, that you have never been forgotten and will continue to be supported and RESPECTED for your heroic stance against the malevolent forces that have wrought so much misery, hardship and destruction on our planet and the human race.

I sincerely hope you are able to read this tribute to you and I hope it helps you face what the psychopaths have in store. With that I would take this opportunity to once again piss on the cowards and gutless wonders among us that know the truth but are too timid to act and support it, may you all rot in hell, which fate is soon to become a reality.

Article from CommonDreams follows:

Crackdown on Manning Intensifies Days Before Confinement Hearing

by Deirdre Fulton

Military prison authorities are allegedly denying whistleblower Chelsea Manning access to the facility's legal library, just two days before a disciplinary board hearing that will decide whether she is placed in solitary confinement for what her supporters and lawyers say are innocuous offenses—like possession of a tube of expired toothpaste.

As Common Dreams reported, the Chelsea Manning Support Network revealed last week that prison authorities are using trumped up charges—including "medicine misuse" and "prohibited property"—to silence Manning, who has become a Guardian columnist and outspoken advocate for transgender, privacy, and prisoners' rights during her incarceration.

The disciplinary board hearing, scheduled for Tuesday, will take place behind closed doors, despite Manning's request that the proceedings be made public.

Manning called supporters over the weekend to report the latest development. Those supporters, in turn, used Manning's Twitter account to publicize the allegation:

"The fact that Chelsea is now being denied basic access to the prison legal library in order to prepare her defense underscores the urgent need for the public to have access to Chelsea's hearing to ensure she is treated fairly," said Evan Greer of digital rights group Fight for the Future, which has launched an online petition calling for the charges against Manning to be dropped.

"Chelsea is not entitled to legal representation during the hearing, so will be representing herself," Greer explained in an emailed statement. "Being denied access to the legal library will impede her ability to do so."

Creative Commons attribution applies to external text.

<http://commondreams.org/news/2015/08/16/crackdown-manning-intensifies-days-confinement-hearing>

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-1789.html>