

'God's Chosen' Refuse to Admit Syrian Refugees

by zoya Tuesday, Sep 8 2015, 6:42am

international / prose / post

Indeed, which 'God' you may ask is so deplorably inhumane, well, read the Old Testament or Torah and you will get a bitter taste of the genocidal exclusivist Jewish ideology and I quote:

Netanyahu - it takes a crisis to reveal the true scum of the earth

Deuteronomy

7:6 For thou art an holy people unto the LORD thy God: the LORD thy God hath chosen thee to be a special people unto himself, above all people that are upon the face of the earth.

7:16 And thou shalt consume all the people which the LORD thy God shall deliver thee; thine eye shall have no pity upon them: neither shalt thou serve their gods; for that will be a snare unto thee.

Joshua

6:21 And they utterly destroyed all that was in the city, both man and woman, young and old, and ox, and sheep, and ass, with the edge of the sword.

6:19 But all the silver, and gold, and vessels of brass and iron, are consecrated unto the LORD: they shall come into the treasury of the LORD.

6:24 And they burnt the city with fire, and all that was therein: only the silver, and the gold, and the vessels of brass and of iron, they put into the treasury of the house of the LORD.

And you wonder why Jews are what they are!

And for those crazy Zionist 'Christians' in the US, read your New Testament morons, to verify for yourselves that Jesus REFORMED the filth and perversity of the past -- as did Gautama Buddha in the East -- but maintained the positive aspects of the ideology:

Hebrews

8:13 In speaking of a new covenant, he makes the first one obsolete. And what is becoming obsolete and growing old is ready to vanish away.

In other words the Jewish Old Testament/ideology is redundant and obsolete, notwithstanding its 'God' is a homicidal, gold-loving, exclusivist, psychopath. If you require proof take a good look at Israel and its murdering behaviour and inhumane policies.

Story from CommonDreams follows:

At Heart of Humanitarian Crisis, Israel Building Wall to Keep Syrian Refugees Out

by Sarah Lazare

Amid a growing humanitarian crisis in Europe and the Middle East, Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu on Sunday refused calls to admit non-Jewish refugees from Syria and announced plans to build a "security fence" to shut out people fleeing war—directly referencing concerns that admittance would skew demographics.

"Israel is a small country, and we do not have the geographic and demographic depths [to absorb them]," Netanyahu's office declared in an English language statement released Sunday. "We will not allow Israel to be flooded with illegal migrants and terrorists."

"Today, we are starting to build a fence on our eastern border. In the first stage, we will build it from Timna to Eilat in order to protect the airport being built there, and we will continue the fence up to the Golan Heights, where we have already built a strong security fence," the statement continued.

However, as Michael Schaeffer Omer-Man pointed out in +972 Magazine, the Hebrew version of the statement released from Netanyahu's office struck a different chord—referring to the Syrian refugees as "infiltrators."

"The message here is clear," wrote Omer-Man. "In Hebrew there is no such thing as a Syrian refugee who might find shelter in Israel; instead, there are infiltrators, work migrants and terrorists. All of those words are meant to scare the average Israeli into rejecting the possibility of taking in refugees."

The prime minister's statement came a day after Isaac Herzon, opposition leader, called on Israel to allow entry to Syrian refugees.

Not only is Syria an immediate neighbor of Israel, but the countries bearing the brunt of the refugee crisis—Lebanon and Jordan—also share a border with Israel. Lebanon is now home to approximately 1.2 million refugees from Syria, amounting to roughly one out of every five people currently residing in the country. More than half of Syria's population is currently displaced—with seven million internally uprooted and four million fleeing to other countries.

Some of those now fleeing Syria are Palestinian refugees. Israel has driven millions of Palestinians from their homes, through expulsions, ethnic cleansing campaigns, war, and occupation. On Saturday, Palestinian Authority President Mahmoud Abbas called on Israel to grant Palestinian refugees fleeing Syria safe passage into Palestinian territories.

Netanyahu's refusal follows growing condemnation of Israel's brutal treatment of tens of thousands of non-Jewish asylum seekers fleeing war and poverty in sub-Saharan Africa—mostly Eritrea and Sudan.

Israel is not the only country to refuse entry to refugees. Its close ally the United States has admitted just 1,500 Syrian refugees since 2011, and in 2013, the last year for which Homeland Security statistics are available, granted asylum to a mere 36.

And wealthy Gulf monarchies including Bahrain, Kuwait, Oman, Qatar, Saudi Arabia, and the United Arab Emirates have welcomed few -- if any -- Syrian refugees into their country.

Further, Israel is not the only country building a fence to keep refugees out. Hungary's far-right Prime Minister Viktor Orbán has built a razor-wire fence along the border with Serbia and is preparing to reinforce it with military and police deployments.

Creative Commons attribution applies to external text.

<http://commondreams.org/news/2015/09/07/heart-humanitarian-crisis-israel-building-wall-keep-syrian-refugees-out>

---

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-1845.html>