

Spineless Russia allows US and Vassal allies to go on Bombing Picnic over Syria

by baz Saturday, Sep 12 2015, 11:00am

international / prose / post

Where are the missiles Russia promised Syria to defend its air space, withheld by mouse Putin who is infamous for sacrificing allies and failing to decisively protect Russian interests?

The US portrays its bombing missions as war, what a joke! War means the enemy fights back as Britain did against the Luftwaffe during WWII. Today, however, target seeking missiles as used constantly by the US but have been denied Syria. The lame and servile Oz government announced its air force has completed its first 'mission' over sovereign Syrian air space, a monumental illegality according to international law. Tony Abbott the gutless and inept wonder hopes to gain cred and popularity 'acting' tough, with big brother USA to protect him locally in the media via Murdoch and in the air over Syria. It's a farce as the Syrian government is unable to defend its air space without the missiles already purchased but not supplied by gutless Putin - try to imagine any Soviet leader not supplying what an ally desperately requires to defend itself from criminal and murdering interventionist western forces that are having a field day flying and killing civilians from the sky.

I've heard all the excuses, Putin is methodical and careful, yea, sure but what 'care' did he give Libya after his slap in the face delivered via NATO bombings going on assassination regime change missions and not protecting the people of Libya as commissioned by the UN security council - give me a break with your insipid excuses!

The simple fact that Putin continues to quake in fear militarily by not supplying contracted weaponry in order to prevent western vandals from further destabilising Syria speaks louder than all the wimpish articles pro-Russian supporters scribble, Mr Escobar and company. Face facts, Putin is missing what makes a man a man, balls! And it's costing innocent lives and incalculable misery for millions of civilians.

The Australian population is prepared for yet more lies and deceit from its incompetent, dishonest and desperate government, which will be at pains to pretend that any bombing mission does not inflict horror on innocents, but how would that be possible when Jihadi fighters have learned to enmesh themselves in civilian populations? We would all love to know Mr Abbott and house slave Obama. War involves combat not air killing picnics, you disgraceful murdering delinquents. As for you Putin, a member of your military should put you down like the COWARDLY dog that you are.

<http://www.heraldsun.com.au/technology/raaf-completes-first-air-mission-to-syria/story-fni0byb4-1227524149061>