

Turnbull makes it Plain No Relief for Average Aussies, the Democratic Majority

by bruce Friday, Sep 18 2015, 10:55pm

international / prose / post

True to form, 'new' PM Malcolm Turnbull has stated that he will work hand in glove with the elite big end of town to implement 'his' policies, which of course disadvantage the majority and favour the elite minority. By consequence these policies would add increased financial pressure and hardship on abused (by Abbott) average Australians. So there it is, more bull, deception, callous disregard and exploitation of average Australians by Turnbull!

Malcolm Turnbull

There will be no relief for the vulnerable and burdened and no sharing in the national wealth that is RAPED from OUR common-wealth on a daily basis by voracious, blood-sucking multi-national corporations and banks. So I would make it plain for ALL AUSTRALIANS:

The entire wealth of this nation, lock, stock and barrel, is LEGALLY OWNED by the PEOPLE of the nation, a conveniently overlooked and intentionally ignored FACT by conservative politicians who favour and obediently serve the interests of the undemocratic elite MINORITY - did anyone really expect banker Turnbull to change his well-known spots and become a humanitarian and humanist, not a chance?

The cure of course is simple, resistance by the MAJORITY at every level until either politicians are forced to accede to the wishes and best interests of the MAJORITY or a real representative is found to advocate for and serve the best interests of the people and NATION, which amounts to accessing the HUGE profits heartless and selfish minority interests plunder from the nation. Tax-avoiding parasitic banks and large corporations have already hollowed out the PEOPLE'S treasury.

Revenue should clearly be sought from those that have profited -- $TRILLIONS over recent decades - and refused to share it with the nation as a whole. The nation's economic and treasury problems can easily be traced to tax-avoiding large corporations and banks that have been given preferential treatment by successive incompetent, lackey governments - fact!

Need I state the obvious fact that democratically elected governments/leaders are legally obliged to serve the MAJORITY; Abbott's failure was in essence that he targeted the people instead of those responsible for the nation's financial and social woes. Abbott attempted to con the people to make up shortfalls as he did not have the ability to deal with the REAL problem, R-E-V-E-N-U-E, by attacking those that avoid their financial and social responsibilities to the nation.

Proof is always in the pudding, so watch sleazy lawyer and banker Turnbull attempt to lie, deceive and con the MAJORITY while serving the elite minority. In short, Turnbull is just another Abbott but with a silver tongue - whether the people accept continuing unnecessary burdens and grossly UNFAIR policies remains to be seen.

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-1868.html>