

UNITE: Hoping beyond Hope

by jude Sunday, Sep 20 2015, 9:02am

international / prose / post

The WORLD, for decades, has been suffering from the widest wealth disparity in modern history. The masses are exploited to the hilt while PARASITIC elites have never had so good. Civilian-killing, elite created wars for profit rage constantly around the globe while fat cats enjoy the benefits of their blood money and ill-gotten gains.

Elites are steering OUR world to ruin and unsustainability, untroubled by a handful of protesters/resisters. The global masses remain inert and powerless, victims of the most transparent, engineered propaganda designed to divide humanity and minimise the risk of the exploited turning on their exploiters -- I could cite many more examples of exploitation, injustice and oppression however, the point is made. Surely, the ONLY effective solution should now be obvious to everyone? UNITE and rid the world of psychopathic, mass murdering parasites, there simply is no other way.

Regardless of superficial differences the global majority has a known common enemy, and as history records, when faced with a common enemy people put away their differences and eliminate whatever it is that threatens their existence. Delaying the obvious solution to the current CRISES is simply suicide. The choice today is reduced to two options, become what we are, the most powerful social force in existence and restore our lives and the planet, or continue as expendable, abused slaves -- how many more needless deaths would it take to wake humanity from its sleep? You tell me! The ONLY faith required is faith in ourselves.

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-1869.html>