

Reality no longer Bites in America

by justin Sunday, Sep 27 2015, 10:12pm

international / prose / post

Most Americans believe that Russia is an aggressor though it only has two bases outside its borders in comparison to nearly 1000 military bases of occupation the US has planted and actively maintains around the globe. According to Obama -- corporate serving puppet extraordinaire -- Putin is a "thug," though Obama wages constant (perpetual) illegal direct and proxy wars in regions where the US has no business intervening, notwithstanding the reality that everywhere the US intervenes, on some pretext or another, it creates havoc, failed states and is responsible for millions of innocent deaths and displaced persons, which today affect the entire world. Ask yourself how many sovereign nations Russia has invaded or bombed in the new century compared to the criminal USA and you may begin to see the nose on your stupid media washed faces - and the above is not the half of it!

Obama has publicly stated that "killing is his strong suite" and continues to murder innocent civilians throughout the world with his Drones, airforce fighter jets and bombers, which resulting deaths are labelled "collateral damage" not outright murder of civilians which it is!

The USA is manically obsessed with interfering with other democratic nations overtly and covertly with its CIA meddlers, while Russia is attempting to lift its nation economically by initiating trade and peaceful coexistence with other nations to the benefit of all.

If China or Russia assert their LEGAL sovereign privileges/prerogatives and focus on national security, America cries international threat and immediately attempts to intimidate with missiles, naval and air power in regions which are traditionally the domains of Russia and China. The list of AMERICAN CRIMES against humanity, hypocrisies and injustices are endless that is the REALITY.

One tragic example of a deliberate heinous and horrendous crime is the murder, by enforcing sanctions and embargos on necessary medical supplies, of 500,000 innocent Iraqi CHILDREN, and that CRIME was committed prior to the ILLEGAL invasion of Iraq based on LIES, which invasion resulted in the first human holocaust of the new century - give me a break on the dreamboat mentality of the American population, which prefer complete fantasy and transparent propaganda to reality.

When questioned on this outrageous crime - killing innocent children -- the serving US Secretary of State openly stated on the American media, "we think it was worth it!" So I ask you, who are the obvious psychopaths addicted to killing and the ruin, destabilisation and destruction of sovereign nation states throughout the world? However, America in its delusionary ignorance wonders why it is the most detested and reviled nation on earth.

I suggest you wake up America before it's too late, your current hold on the remaining few vassal nations that cling to your apron strings is tenuous at best -- a new world is dawning! However, reality has no delusions, we know you will go down fighting, good, at least the planet would finally be rid of the most destructive, criminal nation on earth. Choke on some hard reality, you reprehensible American bastards.

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-1888.html>