

More Crap from Turnbull

by baz Thursday, Oct 15 2015, 2:45am

international / prose / post

Malcolm Turnbull Attempts Unsuccessfully to Turn Labor's Attack on his Elite, Disconnected Status

OK, Mr 'G Sachs' Turnbull, we know it's all legal but so what, it's the globalist corporations, which you diligently serve that have engineered the creation and use of tax havens in the Cayman Islands and elsewhere in order to avoid taxes in the nations from which they rape their profits. So, who do these tax havens benefit most and primarily serve? Answer, large corporations/banks and the filthy rich or the elite 1%, that's who, and Turnbull is a member of that UNREPRESENTATIVE, exclusive club of money grubbing, anti-Christian values, and un-Australian, selfish pigs.

Unelected, conceited PM Turnbull, full of shit and himself

"Luck" has nothing to do with it, you lying, disingenuous bastard, it is exclusivist insider knowledge and exploitation that has everything to do with it. I mentioned Christianity earlier, perhaps Mr Turnbull, who purports to be a Christian and claims he believes in God, Jesus in his case, should refer to the New Testament and the life of Jesus Christ who stated clearly that his life should be an example that all his followers should EMULATE.

Well, Jesus detested wealth, money and the exclusive elitism of the ruling elite of his day, Mr Turnbull, as is recounted time and time again in the NT; furthermore, there is not one instance in the text of Jesus Christ, an outstanding social reformer, even carrying money, on every occasion he referred to it for instructive purposes it had to be brought to him! He detested money and the wealthy with a passion as anyone who is moderately familiar with Christianity would verify; so Mr Turnbull, not only are you a lying, disingenuous bastard you are a HYPOCRITE of the first order, which anyone with a half functional brain is able to determine.

Now let's appreciate the Christian narrative from the start, where it is all laid out in perfect clarity, the 'Temptation of Christ' in the BEGINNING of the Gospel of Luke. What did Jesus do when mammon/Satan offered him all the 'wealth' and 'political power' in the WORLD, Jesus told Satan, the great adversary, to stick it up his filthy, power-mongering, money grubbing, corrupt arse, in so many words. What would you have done Mr elitist, 'wealthy, politician' Turnbull, need we wonder? In fact Malcolm, you are the living antithesis of Jesus and the Christian doctrine, so please save you crap for your peers in parliament and spare traditional Australia your verbal garbage and infantile trickery.

Oh! Did I mention TRADITIONAL AUSTRALIA, the EGALITARIAN, INCLUSIVE land of the FAIR GO and MATESHIP, which translates into helping NOT EXPLOITING and oppressing your neighbour, you piece of G Sachs dog excrement, I only wish I had the opportunity as a layperson to challenge you in a court of law, though of course my language would be adjusted for the occasion but nailing a lying bastard like you to a wall, would be a piece of piss, I only wonder why Labor struggles in this area.

Mr Turnbull, not only are you the living antithesis of Christian values you are also the antithesis of traditional AUSTRALIAN VALUES as is obvious to the VAST MAJORITY of Aussies that you ignore - that's the long and short of it!

However, in the spirit of Christianity, even though I'm an atheist who happens to admire Christian principles, you have a REAL OPPORTUNITY to redeem yourself by REVERSING the harsh policy measures that Abbott inflicted on average Aussies, students and the vulnerable in the community, go on do the right thing according to Australian and Christian values, you gutless wonder.

For instance, taxation is a simple matter if you're a fair and honest man, those that benefit most from the nation should return most to the nation, scaled appropriately. Oz and Christian values clearly concur.

Your ACTIONS AND NON-ACTIONS DEFINE YOU, Mr Turnbull, not your FEEBLE, transparent rhetoric! Now hit the corporations and banks, which your party favours, shock horror, and not the long suffering Australian masses and underprivileged. The problem is of course, you need to have lived a common life to understand common people Mr 'silver spoon' Turnbull and that is why your elite life makes you POISON for Australia, you simply do not apprehend or UNDERSTAND, a fact that many people from many quarters - excluding the mass media and ABC interviewers -- couldn't have made plainer.

To conclude with compromising evidence from his own mouth; Malcolm Turnbull is so disconnected and full of himself he actually believes people "envy" him, he pathologically (NPD) accused the Labor opposition of playing the "politics of envy" -- there you have it, Australia!

---

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-1920.html>