

Washington's Response to Russia's Successful Campaign in Syria - supply MORE weapons to Terrorists!

by justin Thursday, Oct 15 2015, 9:23am

international / prose / post

I mean really, do the dunderheads in Washington really believe there is such a thing as a 'moderate' TERRORIST? Little wonder the entire region has been plunged into chaos for YEARS. Take a sober look at Washington's achievements to date: a ruined chaotic Iraq, which spawned ISIL, the absolute horror and degradation of war torn, occupied Afghanistan, and the granddaddy of all US/NATO criminal efforts to date, Libya, now a destabilised anarchic state of total chaotic ruin!

Would it be too much to ask, lobotomised American 'think-tankers' to take a look at their "wondrous" achievements to date, and then explain to a civilised world what a 'moderate' TERRORIST is and why under heaven's name should they be supported with weapons, munitions and training by the criminal CIA and Pentagon? Re-arming the SAME terrorists groups, now re-badged (who is that really fooling, Obama?) is NOTHING SHORT OF CRIMINAL! Russia has effectively disarmed murdering extremists in Syria, so please Mr Obama explain your insane criminal actions to a sane WORLD, we would love to hear you try to make rational sense after your disconnected, Alice in Wonderland UN address.

Washington's ineptitudes have not only cost millions of INNOCENT LIVES over the past fifteen years of neocon 'perpetual war' they have created failed state after failed state, and masses of refugees that are now a major problem for the entire WORLD; so it would seem appropriate that those responsible for these interventionist CRIMES in 'think-tank-land' and Washington should be hauled before an international criminal court and held to account for their actions; re-supplying arms to a group that Russia devastated by obliterating its weapons and munitions caches is not only insane it's CRIMINAL!

Report from Sputnik News follows:

US Military Airdrops Tons of Ammo to 'New' Rebel Group in Syria's North

A group of US cargo aircraft airdropped overnight some 50 tons of small fire ammunition and explosives to rebels in northern Syria's Hasakah province, CNN reported Monday citing a US official speaking on condition of anonymity.

MOSCOW (Sputnik) — The broadcaster claimed that this was a first step in a US effort to boost support for what the White House refers to as moderate opposition forces fighting regular Syrian troops loyal to President Bashar Assad.

A number of C-17 cargo planes dropped 112 pallets of arms and ammunition to al-Qaeda affiliated terrorist opposition forces on the ground which have recently been re-badged by Washington as 'the Syrian Arab Coalition.'

According to CNN, the newly-named Syrian anti-government force was first mentioned by Christine Wormuth, policy undersecretary at the US Defense Department, during Congressional testimony in September.

She said the group was being trained as part of a train-and-equip mission for anti-Assad opposition factions in Syria.

[Edited]

© 2015 Sputnik.

Well, there you have it WORLD, straight from the self-incriminating, psychopathic, star-spangled, criminal's mouth.

It really is time to haul these homicidal destructive maniacs before the courts before they do more damage to OUR once relatively peaceful, STABLE world. Is any sane, rational person/nation expected to tolerate MORE of Washington's criminal incompetence and insanity?

<http://sputniknews.com/middleeast/20151012/1028413080/us-airdrops-ammo-syrian-rebels.html#ixzz3oeQ1FZFI>

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-1921.html>