

Liberation

by piper Monday, Oct 22 2012, 10:20am international / poetry / post anarchist poem

hoist high the black and red all other flags defer -- unrepresentative leaders betray the majority privileged minorities have hijacked democracy;

justice made orphan
must be restored, order must again prevail hold high the black and red red alone has failed all other shades have succumbed these times necessitate revolt,

hoist high the black and red

paint ur faces, sisters lift your kerchiefs brothers clench ur fists in salute, defy the murdering plutocrats evade their fascist police always strike in stealth and return to the fray to fight another day strike at the vulnerable underbelly, target the heart and vitals pound the beast until it stumbles exhausted to the ground in that weakest moment plant ur charge, draw your sword and end the reign of murder, deceit and destruction,

hoist high the black and red

under that banner alone we gather
all other flags defer

unite under the bi-colour of freedom and co-operation,
hoist high the black and red

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-193.html>