

What's the matter with Putin?

by justin Monday, Nov 2 2015, 10:46pm

international / prose / post

You cannot and will not defeat the criminal USA in its preferred political arena, WAR! The US is addicted to WAR, as is plainly obvious in the amount it spends on its military and the 'perpetual war' industry. However, the USA and the madmen that control it are easily defeated in the courts, Iraq, Libya and Syria provide more than ample evidence of a host of gross illegalities and numerous crimes against humanity, including genocide - abundant proof is also available in the public domain, notwithstanding you once claimed you have satellite proof that 9/11 was an inside job, Mr Putin.

Vladimir Putin

The legal option should be an IMPERATIVE, imagine the US attempting to successfully lie its way out of an independent, international criminal court of inquiry, not a snowflake's chance! Wake up and realise that the Achilles heel of the criminal empire is International LAW and Convention. Regardless of US denial and/or avoidance, its international reputation - only supported by misinformation and propaganda -- would be completely trashed which would make it extremely difficult/impossible for allied states to continue their support without themselves being subject to criminal prosecution.

It's virtually a done deal Mr Putin, the vast majority of the GLOBAL population is aware the USA is an OVERT criminal State and guilty of the MOST HEINOUS CRIMES, how much more support do you need, Mr Putin?

By engaging the US in military war games alone you play into the crazed hands of the neocons that control foreign policy, wake up and perhaps re-read the classic Art of (real) War, by Sun Tzu. Every available option must be utilised to free the world of a ravenous psychopathic bandit hell bent on WAR and continued horror and mayhem. You spelled out the reasons and numerous US illegalities at the recent UN GA - now follow up with ACTION on every front, particularly the soft underbelly of the criminal empire. Numerous other nations would follow suit, the global population is no longer entranced by feeble US propaganda, double standards, searing hypocrisy and needless violence.

You are clearly not a fool Mr Putin though your cowardice is well known; the courts offer a bloodless field of real battle, and in combination with your legal military measures in Syria, victory would be assured. Furthermore, if you are able to prove ISIS' claim that it shot down a Russian civilian airliner intentionally then it would only make for a stronger case to eliminate ISIS and fight ALL terrorists in the Middle East and Central Asia on every front.

Make your move Mr Putin, the USA is depending on your cowardice, reticence and lack of legal action to continue its overt criminal enterprises in the Middle East, North Africa and elsewhere, Mr Xi also take note.

---

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-1965.html>