

Time Orphaned

for Sunil

is time measured by the pulsing waves of pleasure prior to orgasmic release, or the tremors of ecstasy that run up and down the spine during seizures of inspiration and creation ...?

is time the space between two thoughts relative and illusory;
or the 'distance' defined or measured (by space)? how absurd are notions of space when existence is saturated and no real separation exists, 'empty' space is simply a lack of awareness yet in the supreme arrogance characteristic of old, senile and impotent men time imagines itself the destroyer of all things, though reality easily demonstrates continuity

time affects only the ignorant that are unable to detect the swirling flows and spirals of continuous creation corporeality is merely coalesced ignorance, misperception;

time and space married are the progenitors of form and measurement
yet reality, continuity is measureless, therefore time-less and timelessness is immortality!

so what is the true measure of a man, is it height, weight, stature or character, which transcends and defies all boundaries and definitions?
