

Identity

by sylph Thursday, Jul 19 2012, 4:35am international / poetry / post

To know is to Be

Artwork, Tim Storrier

i never carry ID,
i have never doubted or questioned
my existence;
but the State demands 'identifying'
papers, licences, passports etc;
it prefers documents
over the INTEGRITY of a living person - such perversity.

easily fabricated inert paper and plastic cards carry more weight/authority today than a living sentient being -- wonder no more why States no longer respect/represent the people.

in my youth i was often asked what i wanted to be,
my response was always the same,
"i already am what i want to be"
(i would have thought that obvious) however, it seems others cannot take a person at 'face-to-face' value, they (also) require 'fake' ID as proof of bona fides, State issued social 'locators,'

'meaningful' identifiers.

the State claims it derives its authority from the people yet it steadfastly refuses to acknowledge the sovereignty of individuals, preferring instead to regard the people as 'subjects' identified and tagged like cattle and sheep.

should we bemoan today's horrid political realities?
it was entirely predictable that States would become entities/powers unto themselves,
ruling over rather than for the people.

surely,
it is to be expected that a State which refuses to acknowledge who and what we are would one day view the population as the enemy, a threat to be monitored, subject to indefinite detention and locked down.

identifying a person by his/her slave status/vocation rather than by individual human qualities is a gross perversity imposed by those who would create a subservient work(slave)force - we are who we are,
what we 'do' at any given time varies according to numerous factors.

how is it that OUR leaders openly indulge their criminality with 'kill lists' targeting people THEY dislike without proper, LEGAL oversight -- who do our leaders really serve/represent?

why is it Bankers and Corporate CEOs are able to commit massive frauds and other crimes with impunity?

attempting to locate all citizens, persons or groups somewhere in a predefined, mapped and controlled social space should warrant 'some' justification/investigation, don't YOU think?

the State is no longer our friend that is abundantly CLEAR today; we are denied due process, we are monitored, contained and murdered without charge or trial, need we elaborate further?

[we]

who are WE?
we are the unknown, untraceable, Uber elite - we are the worst nightmare of criminal States and corporate cabals.
do your best against us coz you are going down,
and you know it.

the breath u feel on ur vile, murdering, criminal necks is the cold, impartial breath of Justice/Retribution!

Leaders quintessentially reflect the true ethos of their respective nations. The truth about sociopathic America has just been revealed

A warning from George Orwell

Go Back to Sleep, America

Government of the People "Obsolete"

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-2.html>