

Syria Peace Talks - US/NATO Stalling for Time

by jess Monday, Dec 21 2015, 12:31am

international / prose / post

These so-called 'peace' talks are nothing but an obvious sham to allow the US/NATO more time to deal with their public exposure by Russia for supporting proxy Jihadi fighters, including ISIL, in Syria and Iraq and facilitating the sales of ISIL's stolen oil, which income replenishes the coffers of the terrorists and numerous criminal nations involved in this sordid illegal trade. And remember that Syria and Iraq have every legal right to institute proceedings to recover their losses from ALL criminal nations proven to be involved in this criminal trade.

I need not elaborate further, as the tissue-thin veil of lies and pretexts that western powers present to an aware world to distract from the real agenda, world domination and the illegal appropriation of precious resources stolen from weaker nations, are believed only by banjo-playing Americans. However, I would refer banjo-players, denialists and doubters alike to the numerous peace talks the US arranged between Israel and Palestine over the DECADES – and I leave you with a question, did those "talks" result in peace, notwithstanding the numerous players involved in the illegal Syrian proxy war? Tell it to your grandmother, as the noose is tightening around NATO/US criminal necks as I write.

The sooner all these criminal interests are held to account the sooner the entire world may arrive at real peace – now, which star-spangled nation has recently adopted a 'perpetual war' strategy? The TRUTH is plain to see!

---

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-2037.html>