And America is doing all the scratching as its Saudi and Turkish allies have blown the entire sordid machinations of Washington WIDE OPEN, i.e. using Saudi/Turkish financed and supported jihadists to fight US 'regime change' wars and facilitate the sale of ISIL stolen oil from Syria and Iraq. And so scratch on exposed America, as YOU are as guilty as the filthy beheading Wahhabi scum you support, indeed, we are all known by the associates and friends we keep and the barbarism of America's allies/friends now compromises Washington and so it should as the situation has now changed dramatically. You see, these once controlled allies have cut loose as America loses its grip on the world not only on the Middle East.

Obama is doing all the leaning

But that is only a fraction of the story, corrupt and criminal Gulf State monarchies and Turkey deplore America getting closer to arch-rival Iran and so they have both been attempting to drag the US/NATO into a greater conflict, particularly Turkey and now with the provocative TACTICAL beheading of a Shiite cleric in Saudi Arabia.

The reaction of Shia populations over this tactical execution now destabilises the entire region, as was INTENDED. What will Washington do? That is the question, as continued support of these criminals would only further compromise the USA. Perhaps regime change in Turkey and Saudi Arabia, not a bad idea, as the populations of these oppressed nations are looking for an excuse and a little outside assistance to topple their corrupt, evil and DESPISED leaders.

The 'beauty' of the current situation from a strategist's perspective is that everyone except Russia may go down with the ship. The Saudi tactic was bold but could easily backfire, and neo-Sultan Erdogan has jumped from the SU-24 frying pan into the Saudi fire, as every informed person knows that the house of (cards) Saud is responsible for supporting Wahhabi terrorism GLOBALLY, you are known by your friends, America! Indeed, allowing the Saudi house of cards to fall would solve many problems for everyone and ally Israel would simply shrug its shoulders and be relieved that witnesses to its illegal purchases of ISIL stolen oil would be dead. So, Saudi/Turkish murdering scumbags, do your best as the curtain is about to fall - you should have known the consequences if you pushed too far.
