

The Instant War Occurs

by jess Thursday, Jan 7 2016, 9:05pm

international / prose / post

Indeed, as we all should know, war occurs as result of a series of escalations reaching critical mass. WWI and II followed this pattern and so will WWII, which actually began 15 years ago.

The escalations have already occurred today, the US dollar is now in dire jeopardy of collapse as its only value derives from subscription, the US/NATO has been exposed to the world as the force behind training and supporting jihadi terrorists and ultra-nationalist fascists - once demonised -- to fight its wars of regime change and territorial control. The incontrovertible evidence is now in the public domain thanks to Russia finally blowing the lid of the sordid activities of NATO/Washington, the evidence remains accessible for anyone that cares to look.

The overall result for criminal, mass murdering Washington is the loss of credibility and its grip on the world. Russia, China and other less but powerful allies are preparing for the inevitable as everyone is aware that the impulsive, delinquent USA would rather bring the entire house (world) down rather than accept the inevitable loss of power and influence, the BIG money interests that control western democracies would never allow themselves to fall but fall they must and will and its all of their own making - put simply, these interests pushed too far and exposed themselves as the nefarious mass murdering, thieving, megalomaniacal interests they truly are.

War will occur suddenly without notice, the nuclear exchange will end almost as soon as it starts and the majority of expendable humanity would perish, as the interests behind the 'button' have already proven themselves to be psychopaths and as history has demonstrated, all forms of demented fascistic and totalitarian control self-destruct when faced with defeat, however, this time, if we allow it, global civilisation would go with these psychopaths to hell simply because the most powerful social force on earth, the global masses, failed to ACT to save themselves/world and allowed a tiny minority of psychopathic criminals to end it for everyone.

Does that make complacency, passivity and cowardice in the face of exposed criminality and sure annihilation a good strategy for survival?

<http://journal-neo.org/2016/01/08/sheikh-nimr-martyr-of-world-war-iii/>

---

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-2060.html>