

Obama's Last State of Union -- Totally divorced from REALITY

by zayn - Toowoomba Chronicle (Oz) Wednesday, Jan 13 2016, 9:41am

international / prose / post

Obama the president of extra-judicial killing and secret kill lists, a nation that leads the world in killing civilians and millions of innocent children by whatever means, sanctions, embargos on medical and other essential supplies or direct military intervention, feebly attempted to portray the world's leading criminal State as a democracy, referring to the Constitution opening of, "we the people .." which reality translates as 'we the oligarchy and fuck the people except when needed for slave labour and cannon fodder.

It is true the people deserve their leaders and the stark reality is that Obama's Alice in Wonderland speech perfectly reflects American disconnect to the nth degree. However, a few factual gems slipped through the vetted script, like, "American leadership in the 21st century is not a choice between ignoring the rest of the world? - except when we kill terrorists; or occupying and rebuilding whatever society is unraveling." Hmm, a hard statement to swallow for the international thinking community, especially when the US administration itself openly admits it uses terrorists to fight its regime change wars, especially in Syria. Now note the other glaring and revealing exception, "..occupying and rebuilding whatever society is unraveling."

Let's take the unravelling first, could Obama be referring to Libya, where the US/NATO plunged that once prosperous, DEBT FREE, stable nation into chaotic anarchy in order to steal oil and Gaddafi's gold and silver reserves, including the billions in western banks that have now been appropriated by Banksters; hmmm, makes sense I suppose, first destroy a stable nation, allow it to descend into anarchy by removing its legitimate leader and government then occupy it in order to restore 'American' order -- give the world a break you shameless murdering puppet of the American oligarchy. What Obama actually revealed is American gangster foreign policy and illegal foreign interventions. Well, it's no secret that America is the world's leading criminal State, so what would the world expect of its leader?

There's plenty more gems in his feeble speech but frankly I couldn't be bothered simply because unlike dreamboat Americans I am able to compare bullshit with stark reality and they never align. Though one last thing is worthy of mention, the American economy; consider this complete lie, "... the United States of America, right now, has the strongest, most durable economy in the world." Really, but let's not mention over 18 trillion dollars in debt for a population under 400m, that's a indication of real strength, the strength of indebtedness, bad management, gross disparities and the world's leading inequitable distribution of wealth; well, 'strong' my arse, Mr lying president, the greenback is not worth the paper its printed on as its only value is by subscription not production, particularly the petro-dollar which could plummet overnight. At the moment the dollar is dangling on a spider web and could fall at any time. So yea, Obama, tell Americans they can fly, most of the population is transfixed on Kardashian's tits so they'll believe anything you, Trump or the next puppet president would tell them.

For those that enjoy fiction follow link below for speech but have a bucket handy:

<http://www.thechronicle.com.au/news/obama-warns-is-the-us-has-a-long-memory/2898325/>

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-2067.html>