Well, its no secret that 'un-exciting' PM Turnbull continues in the Abbott tradition, all lies, secrecy and sleight of hand -- essentially, all the way with the elite and slug the public with a 50% increase on a tax on everything to compensate for the revenue loss of corporate tax cuts, which group I might add are professional tax dodgers.

Conservative leaders Baird and Turnbull (R), smiling liars and cheats!

Put plainly, Turnbull, Baird and the rest of the conservatives are liars, cheats and hopeless managers of the nation and economy. Tax those that have it not the struggling people that can ill-afford more punitive taxes.

There is nothing more need be said except anyone other than the banker-corporate elite that votes conservative needs their head read.

Okay, everybody knows that Shorten couldn't win a chook raffle, but the cost of voting Liberal is just too severe. Vote representative Independent and others that represent YOU, not the big end of town, particularly if Turnbull calls a 'double D' election. The people have woken to this elitist, and he may just call an early election before his polls go through the floor.
