

Turnbull takes 'do-nothing, photo-op' Trophy from Rudd

by darcy Monday, Feb 22 2016, 9:45pm

international / prose / post

The one crystal clear characteristic of Turnbull's non-leadership so far is he has done nothing for the nation or people. "Everything is on the table," EXCEPT POLICIES, talk about all talk and no action! Is this your 'exciting' leadership, Malcolm?

Malcolm Turnbull, hopeless!

However, Turnbull has trumped former narcissist PM Kevin Rudd, as another all smiles, hollow talk, and absolutely no substantive action PM. Well, 'Malcolm,' the Oz public is sick of it, and if you persist in this deplorable, stunned mullet manner you will pay the price whether you call a double dissolution election or not. Your marketing and media consultants fail to see the underlying reality as they are victims of the short term media think cycle, but reality says quite clearly that all this hollow talk and fakery is a sure way to defeat, or at the very least a major loss of seats in both houses.

Your unwanted and disliked, 'internal deal' treasurer is doing a great job for Labor. The Australian public is acutely aware that revenue shortfalls are the critical issue but your corporate puppet treasurer refuses to admit that those that benefit most from the nation pay the least percentage in taxes. That REALITY Malcolm, which you or any of your corporate serving colleagues are unable to alter, will cost you dearly, or have you forgotten that the elite you clearly serve are the smallest percentage of voters?

If you continue to ignore the people then do it at your own peril and expect the expected, the privately owned media can't save you, do your best Rupert, if you can tear yourself away from Jerry Hall, you silly old fool! With a plutocrat like you calling the shots it's little wonder your PM selectees have all been severely flawed and totally disconnected.

What a tragic unrepresentative circus Oz politics is today. And so, more of the population will cast their votes to other more representative independents or parties until both major parties learn that representative democracy means expressing the will and wishes of the MAJORITY, in this case the struggling Oz population, NOT the tax avoiding, insular, minority elite. So please keep listening to your consultants and ignore Keating's advice on same - he got it right - what a bunch of overpaid mental lepers!

THE PEOPLE WILL HAVE THEIR SAY!

Jungle Drum Prose/Poetry. <http://jungledrum.lingama.net/news/story-2131.html>