

It's No Secret

by lux Sunday, Nov 4 2012, 2:09am

international / prose / post

Very few thinking people in the WORLD today given a few pertinent facts would be unaware that the USA has been directly or by proxy, violently intervening in the Sovereign affairs of other nations.

From the Balkans to Iraq, Afghanistan, Pakistan, Libya, Sudan, Yemen, Somalia, Syria and perhaps soon Iran, the USA has been plying its nefarious, murderous, OBVIOUS trade of 'regime change' and colonisation (forced take-over) by stealth, military force or both. America actually advertised its future intentions and directions in the publicly available PNAC document.

After publication and assessing (little) international reaction, of course America went ahead and executed its imperial ambitions regardless of the cost in innocent human lives, as we have all witnessed over the past decade .

So, notwithstanding that the USA made no secret of its intentions, it is absurd to pretend surprise, shock or even outrage, though outrage certainly applies to the horrid civilian killing methods the USA and its servile allies employ.

It is also a KNOWN KNOWN, as imbecile mass murderer Donald Rumsfeld would put it, that other superpowers, China and Russia, were acutely aware of America's intentions and America's covert/subversive and overt military methods.

Now the ugly confrontational reality -- no other nation did anything to prevent the USA from executing its grossly illegal, murderous plans of resource theft, territorial control/acquisition and hard-soft colonisation, either by regime change, installed puppet regimes or compliant governments such as Australia, New Zealand and Canada, to mention only three treasonous western governments.

It appears that it has not yet occurred to citizens, superpowers or other nations that direct action is now required to thwart the criminal ambitions of the clearly out-of-control USA (indefinite detention on suspicion or extra-judicial kill list, anyone?)

Each to their own methods, superpowers have nuclear options at their finger tips, small groups have biological and individuals have Cyber options but by whatever means, direct confrontation is now the ONLY way to stop the psychopathic, criminal USA in its tracks.

For those that may have moral concerns I would offer the following: a former Secretary of State was questioned on national TV regarding medical and other embargos imposed on Iraq prior to invasion, which resulted in the deaths of over 500,000 innocent Iraqi CHILDREN; in answer to the question, 'was it worth it' (for the oil, implied?) The American Secretary of State replied, 'it was a hard decision but we think it was 'worth it!' That answer will go down in infamy!

When an innocent child's life is worth less than a barrel of oil we confront the hard reality that the USA is no longer a (moral) nation, it has become a lethal DISEASE!

