The Independent UK recently ran a story about the Anonymous hacking group targeting election disruptor Donald Trump. Firstly, it should be made very clear that there is nothing anonymous about this FBI and agency hacking group. The elite hacker underground is fully cognisant of the fact that ‘anonymous’ was formed to entrap hackers whose attacks were disrupting elite powers. Indeed, the headlines were full of stories of busts the FBI made as a result of their ruse and entrapment vehicle. Kiddie hackers have also steered clear of this organisation as a result, notwithstanding the elite hacker fraternity made it known from the start.

Donald Trump, rogue element

Now consider how Donald Trump has disrupted the presidential elections by tapping into disenfranchised public angst, mostly the conservative elements which were once owned by elite interests. This is a case of the ‘shadow (REAL) government’ making their bed and being forced to ‘lie’ in it - lol! Now consider another recent story, written by former US political insider Patrick Buchanan, covering how elite corporate interests held a meeting to subvert Trump’s successes – released shortly before the Independent story.

Trump is interfering with the elite-selected ‘golden haired girl’s’ chances, who has been assured the presidency, as the elite own the entire show, including the ridiculous media circus and sitting Washington politicians. However, Trump, a neo-fascist independent, has thrown a spanner into the works and now poses a serious problem, not so much for deterring the elite’s plans but by making it far more difficult to convince the public that Hillary’s ascension to power was legitimate -- kiddie hackers are able to hack into computerised voting systems and ‘adjust’ results as was done in Florida at the time dubya Bush ‘almost’ lost – in fact he did, but the elite had their agenda to protect.

So now we have the transparent entry into the elite game by the FBI hacking group ‘Anonymous’ – give those who know a break! A child is able to add 2+ 2, however, that does not apply to the GM-food-fed moronic American public unaware they live in a captured society and rigged political system.

Under normal circumstances both Republican and Democrat front runners are owned and the public loses every time – consider how Kissinger protégé Obama lied his way into power then immediately back-flipped on all his promises and pledges and picked up the elite baton from Bush and ran with it. Now consider how the political agenda has not altered an iota since Bill 'balkan bomber' Clinton was placed in power, coincidence? Hardly! The game is owned and the public are made to believe they live in a free society by electing an owned politician, which Trump is not, the first for quite some time, since Kennedy in fact. And we all know what happened to Kennedy, who openly confronted and disrupted the nefarious real powers that be. Quite simply there is no way any candidate who is not owned would be allowed to challenge or disrupt the elite agenda – barring of course a real grass roots democratic people's revolution, which won't happen as Trump's success clearly indicates.

What to do? Subvert Trump by all means available and clear the road to power for Hillary, the Bilderberg and CFR selected golden haired girl and elite puppet extraordinaire, even more so than Obama and Bush. So it's goodbye Donald, and do not imagine for a second that if the elite fail to do it softly, they will not resort to hard lethal tactics.
