I mean really, is the Truth so unbearable that the vast majority prefer to ignore it and live in an elite orchestrated delusion? Well, unfortunately the simple answer to that question is YES! However, the informed and thinking minority are not surprised, with a little diligent research the public minority are able to peel through government tissue-thin, facile bullshit and view the unpalatable Truth in all its beauty and ugly wonder.

A recent article dealing with the "dancing" Mossad agents busted by the FBI on 9/11 clearly and conservatively hits the mark. Rocket science is not required to apprehend and understand one of the biggest government LIES of the 21st century, that the New York WTC wasn't a pre-planned false flag carried out by US Zionist neocons in tight co-operation with the Israeli Mossad, which I might add, planted the steel cutting nano-thermite in all three collapsed buildings over a six month period -- look it up, 'lift maintenance' - one of which buildings, WTC-7, was not even impacted, yet it collapsed on its footprint in perfect demolition fashion. Experts and specialists in physics, structural engineering, architecture, metallurgy and numerous other relevant sciences have debunked the government story that the buildings collapsed as a result of jet fuel (kerosene) weakening the steel substructure. High school physics applied to video evidence clearly verifies that WTC-7 free-fell for a duration of time, an impossibility for a steel structured building that has not had its steel substructure thermally sliced by thermite - and that's not a fraction of it, though alone it debunks the government story.

There are hundreds more factual scientific and common sense proofs available in the public domain that trash the majority accepted 9/11 story, for instance, where were the bodies of victims of the 'plane' crashes which allegedly struck the Pentagon and an open field, I mean really, if anyone cares to research the matter with an open mind and with an IQ above moron level, the TRUTH becomes PLAIN. However, a number of well-known personages noted for their 'opposition' to the mainstream, namely, Noam Chomsky, Chris Hedges and Julian Assange also support the government story and/or refuse to acknowledge the simple scientific facts of the BIGGEST LIE of the 21st century. Clearly, the topic is too hot for spineless narcissists to touch, 'we have reputations to consider!' Tragic.

And so it follows, a story dealing with active operative (government agent) Edward Snowden appears on the same news aggregating site, informing us that Snowden's 'revelations' have resulted in the muting of public dissent and free speech, which was exactly the aim of Snowden's 'revelations;' instil fear via intentional 'whistleblowing' that pan-surveillance was being conducted by the NSA/government and mute the voice of free speech and dissenters. I would add that Snowden's 'revelations' in essence contained nothing new as it was widely known since at least the 80's that the government/agencies were vacuuming all available digital and analogue communications via its illegal "Echelon" program, which of course has been refined and expanded, so what's really new? Nothing but the psychological tactic of instilling fear in the broader community; Snowden's assignment along with the primary intention of penetrating China's State IT spying/hacking networks, was to instil fear in the public. Of course the Chinese AND Russians did not fall for the obvious "asylum" ruse, which nose-ringed Assange, supposedly a former hacker himself -- Vladimir Putin a former KGB spy, containing his mirth and laughter throughout, made it plain in an interview regarding Snowden's (insulated) asylum - BIG FAIL for the two major operative objectives but success on the local front of crowd control and psychological intimidation/oppression. In fact elite CFR puppet Hillary Clinton, made public noises regarding repatriating Snowden but quickly dropped the subject as it proved too much for the propaganda story to bear.

And YOU wonder I titled this article, "GIVE ME A BREAK!"

If the mindless, moronic masses allow themselves to be herded like sheep led to the slaughter then expect to be SLAUGHTERED! A tiny minority of shrewd, mega-wealthy oligarchs and plutocrats have the cowering, spineless masses by the balls. Fair fuckin' dinkum, I never thought I'd live to see this tragic day!
