Afghanistan is a cot case and so too are Iraq, Libya and Syria, US military interventionism has PROVEN to be a TOTAL FAILURE yet the CFR directed mass media/propaganda apparatus has kept the horrid TRUTH from the people. LIES, omissions, distractions and misinformation are the order of the day and so the masses are kept ignorant of the heinous crimes the USA and its allies commit on a DAILY basis.

So the REALITY, as opposed to media fabrications, is that the USA is spreading chaos, mayhem and death throughout the world – plain to see, if one cares to look.

My question is why has this criminal adventure been allowed to continue for so long, and why has the world's leading civilian killing nation not been held to account for its many horrendous crimes against humanity? The answer is not complicated, it's not rocket science, the answer can be seen clearly every time YOU look in the mirror. So there you have it, a dose of REALITY.

The conclusion is again indisputable, the world's leading terrorist State is America and every American, actively or passively, is RESPONSIBLE; recent history and the facts bear this out in no uncertain terms. And so, is it any wonder that America is the most reviled nation on earth, a situation that is clearly untenable?

So let the dreams and delusions continue to spin from the CFR media apparatus until the grand illusion disintegrates before your eyes, as REALITY never plays second fiddle to fantasy for long.

However, I am aware you cannot cope with reality, it's just too horrible to face, so continue in your denial and self-delusions, dreamboats, until such time that circumstance rubs your noses in what you have EARNED! America is the pariah of the world and all the lies and spin the mass media spews out daily cannot escape the fact. Everything must run its course and there is NO ESCAPING the consequences.

Have a nice deluded day, dreamboats, you can run but you can't hide.
