

American Propaganda: what REALITY Says

NATO is increasing its military forces in preparation for an illusory aggression by Russia in Europe and the Baltic States -- Putin has refused to play ball as he shamelessly did with Bush, which allowed NATO/US to install 'defensive' missile systems along Russia's European land borders, which affords the west a tactical proximity advantage.

Now, Putin has finally woken to the fact that the US and its criminal interventions (Balkans, Libya, Iraq , Afghanistan, Syria, etc, are a prelude to a NATO/US attack on Russia. NOTE, the US/NATO criminal alliance have RUINED every nation that has been illegally (based on lies and fabrications) attacked. Now you tell me which nation listed above is better off as a result of illegal western intervention? The truthful answer is REALITY, not the shit that issues from western mass media outlets. So add 2+2 and then tell me, which nations have aggressively and ILLEGALLY interfered with other sovereign states, hint, it ain't Russia! Reality is interfering with America's lies once again and it doesn't even have a propaganda machine, it just stands there stark, REAL and naked!

The farce that Russia threatens the west is entirely based on the same type of lies which were disseminated during the Balkan, Iraqi, Libyan and Syrian interventions -- now look at the state of play as a result of those mass murdering operations, dreamboats. Millions of innocents have been killed and millions more displaced, creating the largest refugee crisis since WWII and YET not one western media outlet mentions the cause, NATO/US interventionist aggression, directly or by proxy - - do you find that reality amusing or appalling? You SEE, REALITY doesn't HIDE or LIE, the media does.

Indeed, you would always discover if you are able to pull your stupid face from the digital enslaving devices that have you captured and enslaved as effective as any physical chains or prison, that REALITY is the opposite of everything American politicians and their propaganda arm says, but then how would you know, you avoid reality like the plague, a learned habit taught to you by the same misinformation/illusion creating apparatus?

You imagine you make all your decisions, don't kid yourselves, avoiding REALITY is counter to survival, the principal instinct that all animals share; nature has encoded reality recognition systems in order to ensure survival, so if those biologically encoded systems are overruled you had better believe that you are malfunctioning and headed for destruction, however, ask yourself who benefits from your stupor and reality avoidance? The answer is obvious, the slave traders that intervened in YOUR personality to create a bunch of useless slaves that never challenge the status quo regardless of whether it is OVERTLY criminal or not.

Now tell me whether your current 'reality' is pro-survival if you are able to think, you mindless morons -- they've got you by the pubes.

Someone benefits from your dysfunction, guess who? Those heinous criminals that haven't been placed on trial for the horrid crimes they committed in plain sight while you failed to see or act to RESTORE civilised behaviour. So now guess what you have inherited, YOUR DOOM! Criminal US/NATO forces are preparing to engage Russia in a nuclear war -- and again, guess who'll do all the dying?

All societies in previous generations reacted to horrific crimes and gross illegalities, but not today's all about 'me', narcissistic, hedonistic reality avoiding millennials. And you morons think it's your decision. Pan-surveillance and the increased intrusive powers of a corrupt and criminal State have got you on the run, cowards, plain to see.

Millennials for the most part are spineless, useless slaves to the system that created them, it's the 'me, me, me,' gens that have let the world go and replaced it with fantasy and delusion -- if its not about 'me' then it is of no account; well, dreamboats, it is all about you as the crimes committed daily by the state continue because of your apathy, complacency and cowardice, furthermore, you will all be subject to a nuclear war between superpowers in the very near future, and guess who'll do all the dying, you dumb, insular, fuck's?

If you were able to think outside the box the media has constructed, you would either shit your pants like a baby or try to run like the cowards that you are but you remain captured, PARALYSED and ready for the slaughter.

How many nations has Russia invaded over the past two decades, none -- America engineered a coup in the Ukraine and the East held a democratic vote which resulted in it re-joining Russia, how is that Russian aggression, morons? Now look at the war crimes committed by allied forces in Iraq, Libya, Syria and Afghanistan, for which no-one has been held to account -- would you care to review Nuremberg protocols regarding America's obscene war crimes? NOooo, the truth, REALITY, is just too much to bear because it is always the polar opposite of what Washington and the western media says.
